MINE VICTIMS MAY YET BE RESCUED

Nearly 400 Men Shut up in Illinois Coal Levels---Many Stories of Heroism When Catastrophe Occurred

CHERRY, Ill., November 14.—Nearly four hundred men and boys, it is now believed, are dead or perishing in the St. Paul mine here, though experts who succeeded in penetrating the smoke-filled air shaft to the depth of 300 feet late today returned with a ray of hope for the grief-stricken relatives of the entombed men.

That the fire had been extinguished was the conclusion of mining experts and inspectors sent by Governor Deneen to investigate the calamity.

For more than 30 hours the prisoners have been cut off from fresh air. That life could exist under such conditions is doubted, but because no trace of high temperature was found in the depths of the mine tonight, officials of the company believe that the victims may have found safety in remote recesses of the mine.

A. J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad company, who has not slept since his arrival here, received an encouraging report after heroic efforts had been made today to open the mine for the release of the entombed men or for the discovery of the dead.

WAS IT A SIGNAL?

John Reid, a son of one of the missing miners, heard that a concussion of the earth had been felt by farmers half a mile south of the main shaft. A report was sent to Henry Burke, an official of the mining company. Burke rushed to President Earling in the office of the company.

"I've heard signals from the men," he said excitedly.

"What do you mean?" asked the railroad president. "What signals?"

"Farmers whose land is over the southern end of the mine felt several concussions of the earth this afternoon. There were several shocks, and the men who felt them are convinced they were shots fired by the imprisoned miners and that they were meant for an assurance that at least some were alive."

"Oh, I hope so," said Earling. "That is at least, encouraging."

HUNDREDS MAY BE SAVED.

This glimmer of light to the darkened homes in Cherry tonight followed other encouraging, though doubtful theories of experts that the entombed hundreds may not have been suffocated, and that oxygen enough remains in the mine to keep them alive until the shafts may be reopened.

After the third attempt to explore condition- E. Y. Williams of the United States Geological Survey, who superintended the work of volunteer explorers, telegraphed to Urbana for more rescue apparatus.

This is expected to arrive early tomorrow, and a score of men have volunteered to accompany the experts and mining inspectors into the air shaft opened today. Three times Mr. Williams and Henry Smith, one of the volunteers, were lowered into the mine in a bucket. Each time they succeeded in penetrating deeper into the shaft. Each time they said the temperature was bearable.

To open the sealed main shaft and exit of the mine was impossible today, yet state inspectors have told Mine Superintendent Steele that they felt certain definite results could be obtained tomorrow. When explorations were abandoned tonight it was announced that men fitted with oxygen cups would resume operations as early as possible.

LIST REACHES 385.

The list of the missing was compiled today in the offices of the mining company. It reached 385, including the dead whose charred bodies were taken from the burning cages Saturday afternoon. It was declared possible that this list might be increased. One hundred and seventy men who entered the mine Saturday morning have been accounted for. The company had scores of miners at work rounding up employes. Company officials say tonight that the number of men in the mine was greater than they first had believed possible.

Among the missing are many Americans who have lived in the mining section of Illinois for years.

Though the majority of those who may never be found alive are foreign-born, all had their homes here or in the surrounding towns and villages. Grief over their probable fate has cast a pall over the community.

Cherry held thousands of persons today, and before noon St. Paul mine was surrounded by an almost uncontrollable mob. Officials early in the day swore in a force of deputies to handle the crowd. Scores of trains from surrounding towns were run. When experts had drilled a hole through the concrete at the top of the second vein air shaft and all preparations made to lower Williams' volunteer band of explorers. The scene at the mine was dramatic. Along the railroad tracks and in the fields on the east and west of the air shaft was a wall of humanity. Stout ropes and policemen kept back the crowd.

DESCENT OF EXPLORERS.

It was a silent but not undemonstrative assemblage. Occasionally a woman's wail broke the stillness. Four men appeared with oxygen bags on their shoulders and steel glass covered hoods over their heads. There were besides Williams of Urbana, his assistant, James H. Webb of the University of Illinois; James Hand of Spring Valley and Henry Smith of Peru. Later Mine Inspector James Taylor of Peoria donned the regalia. A score of men were ready to assist them. A system of signals had been prepared. Two men were stationed at the top of the shaft. Williams and Smith prepared to descend. Inspector Taylor drilled them in their signals.

The men who were to undertake the exploration nodded assent. Engineer Cowley at the hoist that controlled the iron bucket in which Williams and Smith were standing, announced his readiness, and the first men to enter the St. Paul mine since the explosion were slowly lowered.

When sixty feet down, the signal to raise came and was at once obeyed. The helmet covered explorers soon appeared.

"The bucket is not hung right," said Williams. "It strikes and bounds in the shaft. It must be rebalanced."

FILLED WITH SMOKE.

This work required some time. Meanwhile Williams and Smith explained to the mining officials and the company men that the shaft was filled with smoke and their powerful electric lanterns would not penetrate the gloom. When repairs had been made an hour later and with Hand, Webb and Taylor at the wheel, the explorers descended again.

Far 300 feet the bucket went down. Then came the signal for ascent. When the men appeared, Williams said:

"We found an obstruction at 300 feet. We might have got by it, but if we signalled to come up we would undoubtedly strike it coming up. We wanted to notify the men above of the condition so that they would understand."

Williams and Smith, this time accompanied by Inspector Taylor, descended for the third time. They were gone ten minutes.

"We got to the base of the second vein," said Taylor, "and though we could see little we found no excessive temperatures. It was apparent that the fire had not penetrated deeply into the mine and we could see no signs of flames. If the temperature throughout the second vein is no more excessive than there in the deeper and further recesses of the mine it is probable that there may be oxygen to keep the men alive. We saw no trace of men, either dead or alive. Tomorrow I think we can go further with safety."

TO OPEN MAIN SHAFT.

Late tonight, after a conference of mining inspectors, company officials and experts, it was decided to open the main shaft in the morning and send explorers into the mine in the regular cage. This plan was adopted because it was found impracticable insofar as the movements of the men below were concerned. They could not get out of the bucket. It was determined to set up the air shaft tonight. The mouth of the main shaft will be opened and experts believe conditions will be safe for them to walk in the veins before many hours.

W. C. Taylor, general superintendent of the mines of the St. Paul company, was a pathetic figure today. He stood watching and suggesting movements to open the mine and at times, he struggled to control his emotions, tears dimmed his eyes and his voice choked with sobs.

"I wish," he said, "that the men of the press would interview these mining inspectors. They are relieved of their duties about this mine. I do not want to go on record alone, but I believe they will tell you that this was the safest mine in this country. I have operated many mines and I know that it was safe."

"The accident here could have happened in no other way than just the way it did. The men at work in the timbers were exelted. The burning hay could have been shut off from the rest of the mine without the least difficulty and the fire with little trouble extinguished.

"This is an awful thing. Some of the best men who ever lived lost their lives, all through carelessness. Dandy and Norberg died like heroes. They were on the surface. They went down to save their fellows."

As Superintendent Taylor spoke, tears rolled down his cheeks. He has not slept since he reached here Saturday night. President Earling, too, deeply feels the tragedy. He and his son are constantly on the ground. Arrangements are being contemplated to bring relief to families of the victims. It is probable that supplies for their needs will be arranged by the St. Paul company. Citizens of neighboring towns already appreciate, with the near approach of winter, what the catastrophe means to the inhabitants of Cherry. Every home here has been affected. Bread winners in hundreds of homes are dead.

The coroner tomorrow will resume the inquest begun today.

CHERRY, Nov. 14.—Implicit obedience by Engineer John Cowley to orders of his superior may have caused the death of the rescuing party which went down into the St. Paul mine yesterday afternoon. At the coroner's inquest, which began today, Cowley, who is engineer of the main shaft, testified that he declined to accede to the demand of persons standing at the top of his shaft that he at once lift the cage containing the rescuers. The reason he declined, he said, was because he had been told by the third vein boss, Alex Norberg, to move the cage only in answer to the regular bell code.

When the rescue party had been at the bottom of the shaft some time without getting in communication with the engineer by the usual means, Martin Powers, Dr. Rowe and Herbert Lewis, the latter a brother of one of the rescue party, rushed to Cowley, so the engineer testified. They demanded that the cage be raised immediately. Cowley refused. For perhaps ten minutes, Cowley said, he would not listen to their frantic appeals, but finally referred the matter to John Quinby of the top cage. Quinby hesitated, and as Machinist John Chadester entered, Cowley asked Chadester what should be done.

"Go ahead and raise it," answered Chadester, according to Cowley's testimony, "nobody is alive down there."

Cowley then brought the cage to the top, but every one of the men in the rescue party was either dead or dying when they reached the top.

HAD NO AUTHORITY.

Cowley defended himself on the stand by saying he had received Norberg's order to await the bell signal before moving the cage, and that the three men who demanded that the cage be raised had no authority to tell him what to do.

According to Cowley, he feared in raising the cage he would risk injuring some of the men below and that he might leave them without means of escape should he lift the cage while they were not in it.

Cowley declared that after the final cage with the men in it had been raised, the cage was let down and raised five or six times with the chance that some of the miners might reach the shaft. He testified that he lowered and raised it slowly every time.

One of the jurors asked why Cowley could not have raised the cage slowly when Powers, Howe and Lewis appealed.

Norberg's orders again were given as an excuse.

Previous to the final raising of the cage bearing the rescue party, Cowley said the bell signals had been unusual and disconcerting.

He received one signal of three bells to "hoist away," followed almost immediately by a four-bell signal, meaning "hoist slowly." At a height of eight or nine feet the cage was stopped at a one-bell signal and started up at another.

Then came a six-bell signal, "reverse the fan," and then two bells "lower." Cowley lowered the cage in answer to the signal, the last ever sent from the rescue party.

HUNDRED DROWNED; ONLY 61 SAVED FROM THE JAWS OF SHARKS

SINGAPORE, Nov. 14.—The mail steamer La Zyne of the Messageries Maritime Service, running between Java and Singapore and on her way to this port, collided early this morning with the steamer Onda of the British-India line and sank two minutes later.

Several European passengers, including Baron and Baroness Benkzkl, the captain of La Zyne, five European officers and eighty-eight others, comprising native passengers and members of the crew, were drowned. The rescue of sixty-one persons, practically from the jaws of sharks formed a thrilling incident of the wreck.

The accident occurred in a thick haze at 4 o'clock in the morning. The vessels were steaming at good speed and La Zyne was cut almost in half. There was no time for panic nor any attempt on the part of the officers to get out the boats. Most of those on board were caught in their berths and carried down with the vessel.

The force of the collision brought the Onda almost to a dead stop. The rescue work proved thrilling, for not only were the rescuing parties impeded by the darkness, but shoals of sharks were already attacking those clinging to pieces of wreckage. Sixty-one persons from the ill-fated vessel finally were dragged into the boats and brought by the Onda to port. Many had been bitten by sharks, several being severely injured.

JAPANESE ATTACK SHOWN IN A PLAY

Realistic Drama By a Local Writer Is Put on Boards at a Los Angeles Theater.

LOS ANGELES, November 14.—"Invasion," a play by Julian Johnson, a local writer, was produced for the first time on any stage at the Burbank theater in this city tonight. The play is a dramatic exposition of what might happen should a hostile power attack the Pacific coast in its present state of unpreparedness. The play created something of a sensation by its extreme realism.

The play was produced by a stock company to which was added a Japanese repertoire organization, the Japanese being used to represent a scouting party of the invading forces.

THREE DROWNED AS BOAT IS CAPSIZED

MARSHFIELD, Ore., November 14. While crossing Coos Bay at midnight Saturday, a skiff containing four men capsized and three were drowned.

Norman Back, the fourth member of the party, clung to the bottom of the overturned skiff, which drifted past the schooner Esther Buhne. Back's cries aroused the crew of the Buhne, which hurried and woke the crew, who rescued Back. Those drowned were August Gloom, Otto Axelson and Carl Carlson.

ANOTHER DEATH FROM FOOTBALL

Game Claims Another Victim as Result of Contest Between Two Universities

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Football claimed another victim today when Archer Christian, 18 years old, left halfback of the University of Virginia team, who was injured in the game with Georgetown University yesterday, died at Georgetown University hospital this morning.

An autopsy disclosed that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage following concussion of the brain.

The coroner has sworn a jury of prominent citizens whose duty it will be to suggest some modification of the rougher features of football and to look into the question of alleged police brutality and indifference following the accident.

Coroner Nevitt's special jury is made up as follows: Dr. W. P. Carr for years district coroner; Dr. Logan Owen, formerly a well known player on the Georgetown team; Ward Thorn, vice-president of the Washington Electric and Railway Company; William B. Hibbs, John F. Wilkes and Thomas C. Noyes.

BROTHER MISUSED.

In addition to the alleged indifference of the police following the accident, it is charged that Andrew Christian, a brother of the dead man, clad in a football suit, while endeavoring to accompany the patrol wagon in which his brother had been laid, was roughly mistreated by a policeman, the latter striking him and shoving him off the rear step.

The death of Christian has put an end to all football playing by Georgetown and Virginia this season. Today President Joseph Himmel of Georgetown, send the following dispatch to Dr. Alderton, president of the University of Virginia: "I regret exceedingly the sad misfortune that occurred here yesterday. As an earnest of our sympathy we have cancelled all foot ball engagements."

Condolences also were sent by the university to athletic authorities of Georgetown.

Virginia has also cancelled the remaining games of her schedule and disbanded her team.

It was said today that the mother of the dead player always was fearful regarding the fate of her son, having had a premonition that he might be injured. Though in Washington, she did not go to yesterday's game, but immediately it was over she telephoned to the hospital to ascertain whether her boy had been injured.

CLERGYMEN IN DEFENSE OF LYNCHING

Declare Cairo's Disgrace Is Due to the Lawless Element in the Government.

"COURTS ARE RESPONSIBLE"

Legal Machinery of State Will Be Employed to Punish Those Who Took Part in the Irregular Justice.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 14.—Cairo was in the grasp of a firm authority today and experienced the quietest Sunday that has been its lot in years. No saloons were open and the few attempts to evade the orders of Governor Deneen in this regard met with quick detection, several arrests being made by the militia.

Definite indications that the legal machinery of the state would be started in an effort to bring the lynch leaders into court came with the arrival at his home here of Judge Butler of the circuit court. He will call a grand jury to take up the work December 8th.

Despite this announcement, no change was observed in the attitude of the city regarding court proceeding in this district. Half a dozen pastors lashed the constituted authorities without stint, telling their congregations that the lynching was likely to prove a blessing in disguise.

CAIRO DISGRACED.

"Cairo stands disgraced before the world, but the disgrace is not in the lynchings," said Rev. George M. Babcock of the Church of the Redeemer, Episcopalian. "The real disgrace lies in the fact that the city has allowed lawless elements to control the civic fairs. In the same alley in which Miss Pelley was killed, four assaults on young women have occurred within a year. This defiance of law and order made the lynchings necessary to secure justice."

"The lynchings were the harvest of the seeds of lawlessness that have been sown in Cairo for years," said Rev. A. S. Buchanan, of the Presbyterian church.

"Cairo's disgrace is not the mob, but the conditions that made the mob necessary," said F. A. Thielecke, editor of the Cairo Bulletin. "For these conditions the authorities, from the judge on the circuit court bench down to the deputy sheriffs and bailiffs and the police department of the city are responsible."

WAS NOT VICTIM OF HIGHWAYMEN

Mystery of the Death of Los Angeles Coachman Is Increased By New Evidence.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—A deeper mystery than ever surrounds the killing of August Peter Carlson, who was known for twelve years as Peter Widell a coachman, by some person on Friday in this city. Carlson was shot down on a residence street and as an attempt at a holdup had been made in the near vicinity but a few minutes before by three men, it was at first supposed that he fell a victim to the highwaymen.

Tonight, however, A. N. Kupfer, a business man who was passing the scene in an automobile, tells of having seen the shooting, and states positively that the murderer was alone at the time and was not masked. He gives a fair description of the man. From his version of the affair and the conversation he heard between the dead man and his assailant just before the shooting, it would appear that some other impulse than that of robbery actuated the murderer.

The police are making every effort to unravel the mystery, but have thus far been unsuccessful, even with the description given by Kupfer to aid them.

Carlson, the dead man, it has been ascertained was recently under arrest for alleged disorderly conduct, but was not convicted.

FOUND DAUGHTER AFTER 20 YEARS

Sight of Granddaughter Enabled Old Man of Vallejo Finally to Locate Her Mother.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. After a search lasting more than twenty years, Edward Williams of Vallejo, Cal., found his daughter, Mrs. Albert M. Jackson, at her home in this city. Twenty-three years ago, Mrs. Williams and her 1 year old daughter disappeared. He searched for them several years but failed to find any trace.

A year ago at a baseball game he saw a child that reminded him of his daughter. He started his search again and traced his daughter to Indianapolis and then to Chicago. The little girl who attracted his attention was his granddaughter.

PLAN STRIKE AGAINST IMPRISONMENT OF FEDERATION LEADERS.

PHILADELPHIA, November 14.—Plans for a general strike throughout the country for two weeks beginning on the day officers of the American Federation are imprisoned, were inaugurated today at a meeting of the Central Labor Union. Resolutions to this effect were unanimously adopted by the union, which represents 15,000 workers in this city. A committee will be appointed to take charge of the details of the strike.

BOMBS THROWN AT VICEROY OF INDIA FAIL TO EXPLODE

AHMEDABAD, British India, Nov. 14.—Lord Minto, viceroy of India, and Lady Minto had a narrow escape yesterday from being killed by bombs. They were driving in a street when two bombs were thrown at their carriage. A dragoon riding alongside spurred forward and with outstretched saber intercepted the first bomb, hurling it some little distance into a sand heap. The second bomb struck the viceroy's jemidar, a native lieutenant, holding an umbrella over Lady Minto, and fell harmlessly to the ground.

Neither bomb exploded, as the soft sand acted as a buffer. On examination they were found to contain ammonium-picrate. Just prior to this, as the carriage passed through a street, a bomb exploded some distance away. Police and others, attracted by the explosion, ran up and found a man on the ground with his head blown off. He proved to be an innocent bystander. The bomb-throwers escaped in the excitement.

Attempts have been made in India against Lord Minto, Lord Kitchener and Sir Andrew Fraser, lieutenant-governor of Bengal, and many other officials, and for a year or more there has been fear of an uprising against British rule.

IMPERIAL, Cal., November 14.—A heavy storm is reported on the desert between Beaumont and Yuma. Washouts in the vicinity of the Salton Sea are likely.

NORTH DAKOTA IS SNOW BOUND

Worst November Storm in Thirteen Years Blocks Traffic and Communication

FARGO, N. D., November 14.—Fargo is snowbound in the worst November storm in thirteen years. No trains have arrived over the Northern Pacific or the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads, and the Great Northern trains all are late. Street cars have been tied up all day.

Sixteen inches of snow fell beginning yesterday noon, and, blown by a forty-mile gale, the snow has piled up in gigantic drifts. Telegraph and telephone wires west and south of here have been affected by the storm. Few church services were held today and few persons ventured out of their homes. Tonight the velocity of the wind decreased and the snow ceased.

Reports from all over North Dakota indicate that the storm area has embraced districts reaching for 100 miles south and east of here.

SANTA FE DERAILMENT.

NEWTON, Kans., Nov. 14.—Santa Fe train No. 9, known as the Colorado flyer, was partly derailed at Plevna, fifty-five miles west of here today. Engineer George H. Arnold was painfully scalded, but no passengers were hurt. Five of the seven coaches left the track and the engine rolled down an embankment.

EASTERN PART OF ISLAND WRECKED

Difficult to Tell Extent of Storm Damage in Jamaica; Water Supply Short.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 14.—After torrential rains lasting many days, normal weather conditions prevail, but it is difficult to ascertain the extent of damage done by one of the worst storms in Jamaica's history. Practically all telegraph lines are down and the railroads have been washed out. While the entire eastern portion of the island was swept by winds and rains, no earth shocks occurred, and damage to crops and property resulting largely from floods. Reports from St. Mary, an important banana center, state that within a radius of ten miles of Port Maria banana lands were entirely laid waste. The town of Annotto Bay for a time was three feet under water. Grave fears were entertained for several days regarding the safety of the inhabitants of that section, but the floods are now subsiding. So far as can be learned, no lives were lost.

The cables to Colon and Bermuda are still out of commission and attempts made to the coastal steamer Arua to carry cable dispatches to Holland Bay on Wednesday night, failed, heavy gales compelling the vessel to return. The Arua started yesterday on another attempt. It is not known here whether the cable to Santiago is intact.

Kingston did not suffer to any extent in the hurricane, which developed 100 miles to the westward and had lost much of its fury by the time it reached here.

The northern side of the island suffered severely and engineers estimate that it will be ten days before railroad communication is re-established. Kingston water supply is shut off and military officers are using the local staff in the construction of temporary conduits.

RAINS SWELLING KANSAS RIVER

TOPEKA, Nov. 14.—Following heavy rains all along its course, the Kaw river has risen more than fourteen feet here in the last twenty-four hours. The bridge at Manhattan went out today. One and one half miles of Union Pacific railway tracks between Topeka and Manhattan have been washed out. Trains are being detoured over the Rock Island.

A large section of the town of Frankfort was inundated by the Big Blue river, tributary of the Kaw, many residents escaping from houses in boats.

SIXTH MURDER IN HIGHBINDER WAR

One More Member of Yee Family Falls Before the Bloodthirstiness of On Yick Tong

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The feud between the Yee family and the On Yick tong, which has resulted in the murder of five men since the beginning of the month, claimed its sixth victim today when Yee Yip Wo, was shot dead in the Chinese quarter. Gee Gong, a Chinese who is not known to be an On Yick man, but is a member of another powerful family, was arrested near the scene of the shooting and charged with the murder. A revolver containing five discharged shells was found on his person and he answers to the description given by witnesses who saw a man rushing from the place where Yee was shot.

Yee, it is said by the police, was a noted gun man of the Yee family.

The murder occurred on one of the main streets of the quarter at a time when the sidewalks were deserted except for a few children. These witnesses say that Yee was walking slowly up the street and had passed an alley when a Chinese stepped out and fired at him. Yee clinched with his assailant. Several shots were fired in quick succession and Yee fell with two bullets through his head. His assailant dashed up the street and disappeared.

Gee Gong was halted a few minutes later several blocks away. The police were gathered from all directions, and as Gong could not explain his business satisfactorily he was taken to the station, where a revolver was found in his sleeve.

SIX ARE DEAD.

The death roll of the feud now stands at four members of the Yee family, one On Yick and one member of the Gin family, supposed to have been killed by mistake. The war arose over the elopement of Bo Gue, a Chinese girl belonging to an On Yick, with one of the Yees. The arbitration committee fixed upon the price that should be paid, but the Yees refused to settle. According to Chinese customs, the On Yicks were then privileged to seek blood vengeance. Two Yees were the first victims and two Chinese are now in jail awaiting trial on murder charges. Warrants for the president of the On Yick tong and Tong Ting Chong, secretary of the most powerful tong, the Chee Kung or Five Masons, were issued, charging them with conspiracy to cause murder, but they have not been surrendered to the police.

Since the outbreak of the feud special precautions have been taken to prevent bloodshed in the Chinese quarter. A score or more detectives have been added to the regular squad of patrolmen on duty at night.

CHURCH SUPPORT OF STATE IS NECESSARY

President Taft Addresses Gathering at Golden Jubilee of a Washington Institution.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Taft this afternoon stood on the steps of St. Aloysius church with Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Falconio, papal delegates, in a review of the Men's Catholic Society of Washington, an incident of the golden jubilee or the parish. Preceding the review, the President delivered a brief address, having been introduced by Father Eugene McDonnell, the rector, who referred to the fact that fifty years ago President Buchanan had assisted in the dedication of the church.

President Taft said:

"In our country, in this government and under our constitution, there is no union of church and state, but, rather, a declared separation of them. This some times had been misunderstood, by those who did not know our institutions, as an indication that there was something hostile on the part of our government toward, or some lack of sympathy with the church of God.

"This is as far as possible from the truth, and I have always sought, in assisting every such church on interesting occasion like this, to testify by my presence and by words of congratulation that there is nothing upon which the country and the people of the United States so depend for progress and advancement of their ideals as the influence and power of all the churches in the community."

MISS ILLINGTON MARRIES BROKER

Divorced Wife of Daniel Frohman Soon Takes to Herself Another Spouse.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 14.—Miss Margaret Illington, the actress, up to Wednesday afternoon the wife of Daniel Frohman, the New York theatrical manager, when she secured a divorce here, was married to Edward J. Bowes, the Tacoma mining and real estate operator, in this city last evening. The couple left immediately for Tacoma.

The wedding was a quiet one, performed at the cottage where Miss Illington had made her home during her six months' residence here.

Miss Illington's father, I. H. Light of Bloomington, Ill., gave the bride away.

Miss Illington announced the coming marriage to a few friends yesterday, but the date was kept in the privacy of the family.

"I am going to have a home," the former actress announced, "where my husband will care for me and where there will be domestic happiness."

WOMAN AND CHILD KILLED BY CAR

Husband Has Both Legs Broken and Skull Is Probably Fractured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Mary Callahan and her 7-year-old niece, Katherine Brown, were crushed to death today beneath the wheels of an electric car near Ingleside, when the buggy in which they were riding was struck and overturned by the car. James Callahan, the husband, fell away from the track, but both his legs were broken and his skull possibly fractured.

The car, which was driven by Motorman J. J. Meegan, came down the track which parallels the road. Meegan states that the horse became frightened and swung the buggy in front of the car, the impact upsetting the lighter vehicle and throwing the woman and child in front of the wheels of the car. Callahan was thrown out on the other side of the buggy and was not struck by the car.

Meegan surrendered to the police and was released on bail after two charges of manslaughter and one of battery had been placed against him.

TO SENTENCE SHERIFF IN CONTEMPT CASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Sheriff Shipp of Chattanooga, Tenn., and his five deputies will appear before the United States Supreme Court Monday for sentence for contempt. The case grows out of the lynching of a negro in March, 1906.

On Monday, also, the court expects to receive a formal motion to review the judgment of the lower court sentencing Charles W. Morse, banker, to fifteen years' imprisonment for violating the National banking laws.

MUSHET TO FIGHT FOR SMITH'S PLACE

Legal Battle Over Second Position in Los Angeles Mayoralty Election Has Been Assured.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Papers have been prepared by attorneys representing W. D. Mushet, candidate for mayor at the recent primary election, for a contest of the election, and will be filed tomorrow morning. On the face of the returns at the close of the official count by the city council, George A. Smith led Mushet by nineteen votes. The figures were: Smith, 7186; Mushet, 7165. The council adjourned Saturday night without having completed its labors and without making its official statement of the result of the count, but the figures as stated are those which will be announced officially tomorrow morning. As originally announced, Smith led Mushet by fifty-one votes.

BRITISH COLUMBIA INDIANS JAILED

Stern Measures Taken to Suppress Disorder in the Northwest Country.

HAZELTON, B. C., November 14.—Three ringleaders of the northern British Columbia Indians were sent to jail yesterday for terms of five months each, for assaulting Road Foreman McCully and ordering his men out of the native country. Four others were fined.

No further trouble is expected here. The arrest of the disorderly Indians and display of force against the natives have quieted all the Indians throughout the country. More men are on their way here with rifles from Prince Rupert. Three hundred well armed white men are now within a short distance of Hazelton and outnumber the Indians.

WAS PROMOTER OF A NOTABLE FIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Dan A. Stuart, one of the best known sporting men in the country, died at his home here today of Bright's disease, and heart failure. Born 52 years ago in Vermont, he made his name in the West. While in Dallas, Texas, he sought to secure permission for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight and carried his arrangement so far that Governor Culberson called a special session of the legislature to prohibit prize fighting in the state.

Later Stuart secured permission from the Nevada legislature to hold fights in that state and as a result of his efforts the battle was finally brought about in Carson City on March 17, 1897.

HEAVY RAINS IN SAN DIEGO COUNTY

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—The early rains have given this county a thorough soaking. The precipitation in this city for the 24 hours ending at 5 p. m. was 29 hundredths, making 1.41 inches for the storm up to this hour. In many parts of the country the total precipitation is much greater. It is raining again, this evening with every indication of a stormy night.

PLAGUE SQUIRRELS IN SANTA CLARA

SAN JOSE, November 14.—Drs. Rupert Blue and W. E. Rucker of the United States public health and marine hospital service, returned to San Francisco today after a tour of this county made in the interests of their war against ground squirrels which have been found to be infected with bubonic plague in this and seven or eight neighboring counties.

SPEECHES BY PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Taft will go to Norfolk, Va., Friday, to speak at the convention of the Atlantic Deep Waterways Association in Norfolk. On Saturday he will address the negro and Italian students of the Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.

FATALLY INJURED BY FALL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Osborn Webster, member of a prominent family in Alameda, was probably fatally injured today by a fall into the basement of the new Palace hotel. Webster was aiding in placing the furniture on the [illegible] stepped through an unplanked hole. His skull was fractured.

SOME CHRISTIAN IDEAS ABOUT GOD

He Is a Personage Infinitely Wise.

Mankind's Conviction Is There Must Be a Supreme Goodness.

"How large is your world? How wide is your vision? A man may work in a small shop and have a large soul. The biggest gold mine is too small a place for a man's mind. The largest ranch is too small a range for a man's soul. Every man's territory is as large as his thought. Every man's life is as large as his love. The largest cage is too small for the eagle. His pinions were made to sweep the skies. His eye is keen enough to look the noon-day sun in the face. His energies were made for the vastnesses of space. Hampered, he is never happy. He can never feel at home in a cage. What is true of the eagle is far more widely true of your soul, my friend."

So said Rev. Charles C. Woods yesterday morning in his sermon at the First M. E. church, the second in the series on The Credibility of Christian Convictions. The text was Job 21: 15. Continuing, he said:

"It will never do to crowd your soul into small quarters. Why should the eagle be content with small space when he may have the sky? Why should you? Why should an antelope be satisfied with a little pen when he may run the wide ranges of the prairie? Why not have the best for your soul instead of the worst? That is the question I am trying to put. 'What is the Almighty?' If we will let our souls go out in the search, that question of my text will lead us far afield in our findings."

In the sermon on the Sunday before it was shown that men have had three theories to account for the idea of God entering the minds of men. They have said it is natural, acquired, revealed. It was noticed also that there are three unchristian ideas of God which many good people have erroneously held. Some have thought that God is a tyrannical God. Some have mistaken Him for a sectarian God. And some people yet consider Him to be an indiscriminate God. But, said the speaker, the Christian thinker of today is sure that none of these traits belong to God. These ideas have not grown out of the teaching of real Christianity as Christ taught it. But they have grown out of the mere theological theories of men. It is not the theory of truth that has the great value. It is the truth of the theory that has the value.

Having seen what are not Christian ideas of God, it is in turn to notice what are some Christian ideas of God. We have seen what He is not. We needed to see that negative truth first. But that is only one side of the whole truth. Our hearts are hungry for the other side, for the whole truth. Let us tread softly, for this is holy ground. Who is God? Our happiness hinges on the right answer to that question. If we all really knew God, we should love Him. And if we really loved Him we should know Him. Hatred will hide the best truth about anyone from our hearts. Hatred of God will hide Him from our hearts.

GOD IS A PERSON.

"If it would be irrational to say that a clock came by chance, how much more irrational to say that the seasonal clock-work of the universe came by chance? The seasons are as timely as the movements of a clock. But it is unthinkable that a clock should not have a mechanical mind back of it. Some supreme sanity must direct the seasons.

"The Christian idea is that God is a person. Now the three things that chiefly characterize a person are ideas, feelings and actions. The mental philosopher would say intellect, sensibility, will. These three things are traceable through all the works of men. Every great musical composition shows the composer to be possessed of ideas, feelings and actions. The artist puts undoubtable proof of these three things into every picture. When I read a book I am compelled to see that author must have thought, felt and willed. These three qualities of personality run through all the personal products of men.

"But nature is full of music that no man made or could make. The violinist stretches the chords of his violin to just such a tension before he can draw a certain quality of music. But who stretched the marvelous musical chords in the mockingbird's throat? No man did that. But somebody did. Who, who? Answer that, my friend, answer that. Really, my friend, is not the Christian answer the most reasonable one, indeed the only one? Simple, sensible, straightforward Christianity says 'God stretched the chords in the mockingbird's throat.' You say the painter puts the colors into his pictures. Very well. That is a reasonable account of how the colors came there. But here is a flower garden. It is full of roses, lilies, daisies, galardias, violets, poinsettias, nopales, pansies and others. The colors came into these flowers somehow. Who put the colors into the flowers? Who put the colors into that picture we were talking about? Oh, now I recall who it was. It was the creator of the picture. I thank you for reminding me of that. But I am reminding you that the Creator of the flowers must have put those colors into the flowers, seeing that they are there.

"Come, friend, we are following the lead of a great truth. Let us be truthful and fair. What are we trying to find? This, that there are two classes of made things. There are some things that men made. There are some other things that men did not make. You know that nothing can be made without a maker. Listen, friend, this is what I am asking you. Who made the things that are made which men did not make? Christianity says that God made them. Is not that reasonable? How long would it take you to find a better answer than that?

"If the book on astronomy which tells the story of the stars must be the product of a person, must not the stars themselves be the product of a person? If the book on botany tells the story of the plants and flowers must be the product of a person, must not the flowers themselves be the creation of the Creator? If the lesser things must have a creator, must not the greater things have a creator also? If every creature is the product of a creator, then must not every person be the product of a personal creator? The Christian conviction about God is that He is a person.

A PERSON INFINITELY WISE.

"There are persons wise and persons foolish. We have reason to fear when values of any kind are entrusted to a foolish person. But in the hands of wisdom we are unafraid. A little lad I knew went fearlessly through a dark forest after night, when the owls hooted and the winds moaned because his father, who knew the way, held his hand. When held by the hand of wisdom, he was wholly unafraid. We are all like that little lad. Nothing will drive awey the favered fears of life like calm confidence in the All-wise Father. Today a babel of theories entangles us with talk, but calm confidence in the all-knowing God gives actual experience of serenity and strength.

"It is always the act of the highest intelligence of a human mind when it does not know, to trust Him who does. Faith is soul sight. And soul sight is always greater than eye sight. Again and again your eyes went wet with tears, but you have seen truth through tears that you never saw through tearless eyes. It was only the other day that a sufferer in a hospital in this city said this wise thing to me: 'Suffering is a teacher from whom we learn lessons that no other teacher teaches.' Even Jesus was 'made perfect through suffering.' We need not wonder if we must walk the way He went.

"The adaptation of means to ends is always a mark of wisdom. As the wisdom of the machinist is traceable through every part of the machine, so the wisdom of the creator is traceable through every part of his creation. The eye was made for light. The ear was made for sound. The tongue was made to taste and talk. All of this is plainly the work of wisdom. And all the wise words that men have spoken about the works of nature have been drawn from the wisdom of God that inheers in the works of nature. Man put the wisdom in his book because he found it in God's nature book. But, mark you, God put the wisdom into His nature book first, or man could not have transferred it into his. The Christian conviction about God is that He is an infinitely wise person.

AN ALL-POWERFUL PERSON.

"How much Woe there is in the world on account of weakness. But for our weakness we would relieve suffering But for our infirmities we would relieve the great 'multitude of impotent folk' that are in our neighborhood and in every community. But for our weakness we could help the halt, the maimed, the blind. But for our weakness we might prevent much of the world's wanton wickedness. We might alleviate the multitudinous miseries of mankind were we not ourselves so feeble and frail.

"By everywhere the world is all athrob with power. Where does the wind's power come from? Where does the water's power come from? Not from man. Where does the fire's power come from? Where hides the strength of the sea and where is the hiding of the earthquake's power? Man manipulates the powers he finds in nature, but he does not make them.

"But if power is put out, it must be the output of some power. There is a power which is not the output of man. This power works in the wisest ways. It can be counted on to work the same way under the same conditions always and everywhere. Even in the physical world there is no end to power. There seems to be an end, because man can no longer manipulate it. Even here we see ranges of power infinitely beyond the possibilities of men. Whose power is this? Christianity says it is the output of an infinitely wise and powerful person.

A PERSON INFINITELY GOOD.

"The Christian conviction about God is that He is infinitely good. It is the supreme conviction of mankind that there must be a supreme goodness somewhere. Were it thinkable that God is a supremely bad person there would be no goodness anywhere. Were there no lights there would be no shadows. The light does not make the shadow. The obstruction to the light causes the shadow. That is so in the spirit world as well as in the world of matter. No man can thoughtfully and honestly say: 'God has been bad to me in spite of my goodness.' But every honest and thoughtful man can truthfully say: 'God has been good to me in spite of my badness.' We may not see what causes the shadow, but we may be sure that it is not the sunlight. It is that which obstructs the sunlight. God is good to you and me, though we may have obstructed our sense of that goodness. Who is the Almighty?' The Christian conviction is that He is a Person infinitely wise, powerful, good.

"To what conclusions do we now come? We conclude that every human book about nature must be the product of an intelligent person. But the book of nature itself is more powerful than all the books about nature. Then the book of nature must be the product of a person having infinitely greater intelligence. Is it not more reasonable to believe this than it is not to believe it? More than that, if we are going to believe anything on this subject, is not this the only thing that sanity can believe?

"The Bible is right in saying that the fool has said there is no God. Would he not be a fool in any other field of reckoning who should say that there is no source back of the flowing fountain, there is no seed back of the harvest, no picture maker back of the picture, and no musician back of the music? The whole creation is full of flowing fountains of light and power, of life and love that no man started. The world is full of pictures that no man painted, and of music that no man made. Whence all of this? The Christian conviction is that back of it all is God, supremely wise, powerful, good. His wisdom will help me thread the tangled thickets of the dark into the light of deathless day. His power will beat back the sleuth-hounds of my soul. The infinite lift of His love giddens me today and will bring me home at eventall."

THEORIES OF SIN NOT SCRIPTURAL

Some of Their Forms Are Near Blasphemy.

The Plan of Salvation as Viewed in the Light of Unitarian Reasonings.

Last night at the Unitarian service, held at the Parlor Lecture Club hall, Rev. J. A. Cruzan spoke upon "Sin and Salvation." He chose for text, "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his own good pleasure." A synopsis of the address follows:

Sin and salvation! They are the two most pregnant words in the language. Sin is the universal, terrible fact; salvation is the universal desire and hope. They have built every altar, church and cathedral; they are intoned in elaborate rituals, felt in the silence of Quaker worship, and form the undertone in every prayer and Te Deum.

First, let us glance at the developing thought of man as he has wrestled with this age-long problem of sin, and how to escape its penalty. How did sin come into the world?. I have no time to trace the genesis of the common view of sin and deliverance from it back to their savage and pagan origin. It is clear to every student that they are the natural outgrowth of the sacrificial practices which go back to the childhood of the race.

The speaker briefly touched upon the legend that before the creation of the world, there was a rebellion in heaven led by Lucifer and the latter having been defeated after a long contest and cast out, hell was created as the future home of Lucifer and his followers. Heaven was at peace once more. To re people heaven it was decided in the infinite councils to create the earth and people it with a new being, Jesus being commissioned to do the work and in six days finishes the world. Lucifer tempts the first man and woman, they drag down all posterity and thwart the plans of God.

PLAN OF ATONEMENT.

Four thousand years afterward, as a result of another council in heaven, the plan of an atonement is devised, by which God sought to save some of this lost, fallen race. With his consent, Jesus, the second person in the Trinity —he who had created the world and man which Lucifer so quickly ruined— is to become incarnate and die for man. He comes to earth, is born of the Virgin Mary, without any earthly father, grows up, teaches, suffers, dies on the cross.

Now how does the death of Jesus make salvation possible? There have been many theories; I can notice only the most prominent. It was held for centuries that by the sin of Adam the race had become the subjects of Satan—that they belonged to him. It was this belief which suggested the quaint medieval stories of Christians selling themselves back to the devil. According to this theory, Satan, anxious to have his old enemy, Jesus, in his power, bargained with God to give in exchange for the killing of Jesus, so many souls as were to be saved.

In other words, Jesus was the price God paid for the small fragment of the "elect" who were to be saved. But Satan was cheated. He did not know that death could not hold Jesus. The third day after the crucifixion Satan found that he had not only lost the souls of the "elect," but also the price that he had been paid for them. This seems to me hardly a "square deal" on God's part. Of course no one believes or teaches this now, but it was taught for centuries.

Then, later it was held that Jesus died to appease the wrath of God. God was angry because of Adam's sin. All Adam's posterity, tainted, corrupted sinners, fell under the wrath of God. Jesus' ghastly sacrifice on Calvary appeases that wrath, and God spares the penitent sinner. Any such teaching as that transforms the God of Jesus, a loving Father, into a Shylock!

Still later came the doctrine of substitution, which is the basal idea of all Calvanistic creeds. The sufferings of Jesus were a substitute for that due from the sinner. "Jesus died and paid it all, all the debt I owe." That is a strange idea of Justice which inflicts the penalty due from the guilty upon one who is innocent! That is the Chinese way—when the real criminal cannot be found, or if the criminal is of high rank, they behead a few coolies; but it hardly meets our standard of justice.

The governmental theory of the Atonement was taught later. God is the governor of the universe. Sin is rebellion against Him and His laws; He must maintain His laws inviolate. So God punishes Jesus for your sins to maintain the supremacy of His government. Here again is Chinese justice—the punishment of the innocent and letting the guilty go scot-free.

UNITARIAN DOCTRINE.

In the last century the consciences of men have become so sensitive and their hearts so tender that they revolted against all these old theories. Horace Bushnell conceived and preached what has been called the moral theory: The sufferings and death of Jesus is simply the manifestation of God's love for man, and of His sense of the evil of wrongdoing; by this manifestation of God's love, and by Jesus' teaching and example, men are won away from sin to right living. That is good Unitarian doctrine—but it drops out the idea of Atonement. It is no wonder the Congregationalists tried Bushnell for heresy.

We Unitarians do not accept these old ideas. Let me give you a few reasons why. First, all these theories, except Dr. Bushnell's, lead back to a pagan origin, and have in them the idea of placating an angry God. There is no such God.

This old tradition of Lucifer's rebellion stands on the same basis as similar stories in classic mythology. It is not fact, but tradition. These theories are not scriptural. The old prophets, historians and psalmists knew nothing about any fall of man or fabled Garden of Eden. Jesus knew nothing of all this. He never mentioned Eden, or the "fall" or the trinity, or the atonement. If He was the Second Person in the trinity, come to earth for the special purpose of making an atonement for the sins of the race, then He certainly ought to have stated that stupendous fact, clearly, explicitly, emphatically. But He never did. He never alluded to any of these things. And His personal disciples, Peter, James, John, etc., were all, like their Master, ignorant of these things.

These theories are contrary to the unquestioned facts of science. We know that man did not first appear upon the earth perfect, but imperfect; that he is not a "fallen" but a rising being.

These theories, in some of their forms, seem to us a slander on God, and come perilously near blasphemy. Think of a God who would place that inexperienced pair where He knew they would be tempted and that they would fall, and when they fall in wrath drives them into the wilderness and curses the very ground. Think of the injustice of so linking their descendants with Adam and Eve that the smiling baby which you hold in your arms in this twentieth century must be redeemed or it will be eternally lost. Think of a God who cannot, or will not, pardon a penitent child until his own Son dies in that penitent's stead—think of all these things, in contrast with Jesus' picture of God as a loving Father, and judge for yourself whether such teachings are not a slander on God and perilously near blasphemy.

THAT PLAN OF SALVATION.

The so-called "plan of salvation" seems to us unmoral—I do not say immoral. That is a dangerous idea which leads people to believe that they can live any life they please, sensual, cruel, devilish, and then at the last can lay all this terrible load of guilt on Jesus, "wash their souls clean in his blood," and go scot free of all punishment. Think of the enormity of it, if it were true. But it is not true. If I break one of God's laws I must bear the penalty.

Turn now to the teaching of science and common sense. The old theology was never able to satisfactorily answer this question, "Why did the all-wise, all-powerful, all-loving God permit sin to come into this world?" But science can and does answer it. Accept the facts as revealed by evolution, and the form of the problem is changed, but the answer is plain and simple. Science teaches that it is not the origin of evil, but of goodness that we have to explain.

Study the lower animals and you will find all the vices, crimes—pride, selfishness, theft, gluttony, lust, murder—only they are not vices, or crimes at all. On the contrary, these very things tend pride of the peacock enhances his beauty; the selfishness of the fowl fattens him the sooner for your table; the gluttony of the Berkshire makes him the superior hog, the murderous anger of the bulldog makes him the better guardian of your home. All these propensities, excess in which we rightly regard as evil in man, are not evil in the animals. Why?

Because the animal has no moral sense which recognizes anything better —no moral standard by which to measure these actions. When man appeared what happened? With him goodness was born. For the first time there walked among the animals a being with a sense of right and wrong. Man alone had a moral ideal in the light of which he recognized something higher than the animalism around him. He felt that he ought to struggle against his selfishness, his animalism, battle it, and put it under his feet. Without this moral ideal, there could be no sense of sin. We are often told that this sense of sin is evidence of the fall of man. No, it is evidence of the rise of man.

RELAPSE TO ANIMALISM.

Previous to the development of man all these evil things—hate, anger, jealousy, cruelty, lust, murder—existed, but there was no being large enough to think them evil. But at last man came; no new evil come into the world with him, but an advanced and enlarged being had come, one who had climbed high enough to begin to see dimly as God saw, and to think, just a little, as God thought. To him, for the first time in the universe, came the sense of sin. Is it not plain that the coming up to this sense of sin, instead of being a fall, was an immense advance, a rise above the animalism about him? Do you not also see that goodness was born into the world at the moment man first felt this sense of sin?—when he first spoke the words, "I ought!" and began his struggle against his animalism?

What is the cause of all the evil in the world today? It is man giving way, relapsing into this old primitive animalism. Man has inherited from his animal ancestry all these passons of hate, anger, jealousy, etc. Here you can see traces of the bear, the tiger, the hyena, the serpent in their faces; they live the animal daily. "Very few of our race," says Emerson, "can be truly said to be finished men. We still carry sticking to us some remains of the inferior quadruped organization." But man is climbing up and out. In each generation conscience grows keener, the sense of sin grows and enlarges the catalogue of the things that are regarded as evil. Man is going on to perfection.

What kind of salvation does this unfallen, rising man need? We Unitarians take these old theories, this "plan of salvation," to our Master, Jesus, for His answer. We search the record of His teachings. He says nothing about any "fall" of man, about man being lost because of Adam's sin, about any gulf separating God from His sinful children, nothing about an atonement, about His death ransoming sinners from the devil, about appeasing the wrath of God, about any governmental exigency that must be met, nothing about His death being substituted for that of the sinner—Jesus says nothing about any of these things on which the average pulpit is voluble. He sums up His idea of salvation in the story of the Prodigal—the lost boy. He pictures the Father as longing for and yearning over his sinning son; and when the boy "comes to himself" and goes back home, the Father does not say, "How is the penalty of your sin to be paid?" "How are you going to appease my wrath?" "Who is to suffer in your stead so as to save my government?"

HEAVEN IN THE SOUL.

The father does not say anything, but runs to meet and welcome back his penitent boy. That is Jesus' teaching of the attitude of God toward His sinful children. If any atonement, the death of the second person in the Trinity, was necessary for man's salvation, Jesus knew nothing about it. All that Jesus thought was necessary for salvation was for man to turn from his sin, to leave the swine pasture of his animalism, and turn to God and begin to live as a son of God ought to live.

Salvation does not mean escape from hell, but escape from our animalisms; it does not mean getting into heaven; it means getting heaven in the soul, and living it. Salvation means to get rid of our ignorance; to know that we live in a moral universe in which sin and evil are outlaws, and always and everywhere bring misery, not happiness. Salvation is deliverance from low aims, purposes, desires—to cease feeding our manhood on "husks," and finding pleasure in swine pastures. It is to live like a man and not like a hog. Salvation is deliverance from selfishness, and the finding of the gladness, the largeness, the greatness of service. It changes the emphasis on the pronouns—it puts "you" and "yours" at the front, and sends "I" and "mine" to the rear. It sings with Whittier,

"To be saved is only this,
Salvation from our selfishness."

Salvation is battle, struggle, defeat, victory, and the character, the manhood won through all this.

This salvation the text says we are to work out. You can not get it by "rising for prayers;" it is not born of an emotion, or an ecstasy; it does not come from assent to a creed. It must be earned, worked out, lived. If you had to do this alone, then you might well be disheartened. But remember the last clause of the text, "For it is God that worketh in you to will and to do." God is the willing, working, struggling soul; here is power, here is the open secret of victory

STOMACH GAS, INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN AND HEADACHE GO.

A Little Diapepsin Regulates Bad Stomach in Five Minutes.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headache, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure almost any chronic case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble.

Money Back in Any Case Where Samose Fails to Increase the Weight

Weigh Yourself Before Using

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful sale of this preparation since first introduced in Fresno and the remarkable results following its use have made the Patterson Block Pharmacy such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but they have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well solely through the use of Samose, that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

How to Gain Healthy Flesh

Patterson Block Pharmacy Advises Thin Folks to Use Samose.

While thinness may not be a disease, yet it is in reality a condition that needs attention. Under the nourishing power of Samose, healthy, natural flesh will soon be attained.

This remarkable flesh-forming food strengthens the system generally, and builds up the fleshy tissues so that good, natural plumpness results.

An ounce of flesh is better than a pound of theory. The Patterson Block Pharmacy believes that the best possible demonstration of the flesh-forming powers of Samose is to have it tried by their customers, and to induce them to use it they offer to pay for the Samose in case it does not give satisfaction. No stronger proof than this can be given of their faith in it. They have seen hundreds who were weak, thin and scrawny become plump robust and strong, solely through the use of Samose. Ten days' treatment 50c.

Thin Folks Made Fat

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food, together with natural action of the organs of assimilation. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food and health restorer. Weigh yourself before commencing to take these little tablets, and see how much your weight increases from week to week. Large box 50c.

Samose does not contain a particle of starch or pepsin, nor is it any nauseating preparation, such as is usually recommended to make people fat and which does not build up good, healthy tissues, Samose has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the whole system, helps the food that is eaten to be assimilated in a natural manner and absolutely restores health to all the organs.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Samose, the Patterson Block Pharmacy will return your money without any quibbling.

COAST LEAGUE MAY LOSE A FEW PLAYERS

Ten "Grasshoppers" Will Revert to the State League.

FOUR COME TO FRESNO

Perhaps Tigers Will Have New Performers on Its Payroll.

(By Al Baum in San Francisco Examiner.)

President J. Cal Ewing of the Pacific Coast League is due to arrive on tonight's overland train from the East, and will be welcome in more ways than one. There are several of the league managers who are worrying a bit and not a few of the players. They want to ask the president the real meaning of section 5 of the agreement ratified at Memphis, by which the California State League was taken into the fold of organized baseball. All the other sections were anticipated and practically agreed upon before Ewing left for the East, but the fifth section, if the telegraphic reports are correct, was quite a shock.

It reads:

HARD ON PLAYERS.

Fifth—All players who were with the California State League during the season of 1909 and who have joined the Pacific Coast League shall revert to the California State League; provided, however, that the cases of all players who afterward joined the National Association clubs shall be subject to review by the national board.

Does this mean that all the players who finished the season with the Coast League teams, who had played at any time with the "outlaws," must go back to the class D league? If it does, there is going to be some loud howling. It will include a likely bunch of ball tossers who were promised immunity for deserting the "independents" during the playing season. Among them are "Red" Ivers and "Bull" Durham of the Seals, Vance, Devereaux, Caffyn of Vernon, Myers, House and Gandil of Sacramento, McKune and Kelly of Oakland.

It hardly seems possible that this can be the meaning of this section. If it goes as it reads, however, it is a big concession to the State League managers, who practically come begging at the door after an unsuccessful season of high salaries and poor gates. Not only that, but it is a hardship on the players who listened to the inducements of the Coast League managers to desert the "outlaws." If the act of playing "outlaw" ball is a punishable offense in the baseball court, why should those who tried to be "good" suffer with the others that stuck out to the end?

Maybe Ewing can enlighten us.

The annual meeting of the Coast League will open tomorrow at the St. Francis with two important questions to be settled—the selection of a successor to President Ewing and whether the Northwest league shall retain a club in Portland.

Several men have been suggested for the leadership of the organization, the only local man among the possibilities being William A. (Bill) Lange. This, of course, with the understanding that Ewing will not allow his name to go up for re-election.

ATHLETICS WIN ENTIRE SERIES FROM SEALS

Harry Krause Gives Fans Glimpse of Big Brush Work.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The Philadelphia Athletics made a clean sweep against the San Francisco Coast League pennant winners today taking the morning game, 2 to 1, and the afternoon contest, 3 to 1. The locals were outbatted in both games and could not solve the big league pitchers' shoots. Scores:

Morning game.

	R.	H.	E.
Athletics	2	6	0
San Francisco	1	5	1

Batteries, Coombs and Donahue; Willis and Berry.

Afternoon game.

	R.	H.	E.
Athletics	3	10	1
San Francisco	1	5	3

Batteries, Krause, Plank and Thomas; Browning and Williams.

TWENTY TEAMS ARE ENTERED IN ANNUAL SIX-DAY BIKE RACE.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The date of the six-day's bicycle race, which has become an annual figure at Madison Square Garden, was announced today for the week of December 5th. Arrangements are being made for the entry of from 15 to 20 teams, representing almost as many nationalities.

SONG AND POEM WRITTEN ABOUT TENNY, NOW DEAD

Artists Painted Pictures of the Famous Race Horse.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The death of Tenny, one of the most famous race horses of the American turf, in Kentucky, yesterday, at the age of 23 years is a matter of general comment here among sporting men. It is an odd coincidence that Tenny died only a few months after his greatest rival, Salvator, and at the same age.

Salvator, the fastest race horse in the world, defeated Tenny by a head in two races and their contests are classics of the turf. Songs and poems have been written about them, and many pictures painted.

Tenny was owned in his halcyon days by Tenny Pulsifer. Mr. Pulsifer bought Tenny, which was by Rayon d'or—Belle of Maywood, as a yearling for $150. He won a big fortune by backing Tenny when the colt captured the Brooklyn handicap at a long price in 1891. While possessing marvelous speed, Tenny was of a surly temper. He lost a stake to Salvator by a head merely through sulking, and he was beaten by both Salvator and Longstreet in matches, for the same reason. Tenny lost by a head each time.

Lange has intimated that he would accept the position provided the salary was large enough to make it worth his while. He has big business interests in this city, but feels that he could devote the necessary time to the league.

LANGE IS POPULAR.

Lange's name would no doubt carry some weight among the big powers in the East. "Quote me as saying that Bill Lange would give the league a big prestige with the big fellows back East," said Frank Bancrift, who is managing the All-Nationals on their Western tour. "He is known wherever baseball is played, and as he knows the game all the way through, I think he would make a good head for this league. Some of the Eastern papers have printed the fact that Bill's name had been mentioned and quite a number of baseball men spoke to me about it on the way to the Coast."

The question of the Northwest League staying in Portland is evidently up to the Coast League directors, as the matter did not come up at the Memphis meeting. "We gave them permission to enter Portland, and I guess we can put them out again," said a Coast League manager when asked about it. Nobody will talk, but it looks like an understood thing that Mc'Credie's lush leag e team will be voted out of that territory.

BIG LEAGUERS THIS WEEK.

A full representation expected at the meeting tomorrow. Happy Hogan, Billy Roddy and the local magnates are already on the ground.

* * *

This week, weather permitting, the local fans will have a chance to see the two Eastern aggregations in action—the Athletics against the Nationals. Bancroft has strengthened his pitching staff by the addition of Dolly Gray, Henley, Nelson and Benny Henderson, and from what the ball players say there is quite a bit of rivalry between the two teams. The first game will be played on Wednesday.

AMERICAN TRACK RECORDS BROKEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—All American amateur track records from 10 1-2 to 20 miles were lowered today at Celtic Park in the 20-mile run, the main event in the annual games of the Shamrock Athletic club. James Clark of the Xavier A. C. won in 1:58:27 3-5 against the old record of 2:07:11 made by James Crowley of the Irish-American A. C. last January.

The leader at 10 1-2 miles was Crowley, his time for that distance being 58:02, almost one minute better than the record which has stood since 1889. Crowley led up to the seventeenth mile, lowering all intermediate records. Then he stopped almost to a walk, and Clark took the lead, which he held to the end, making new marks for every mile.

AD WOLGAST KNOCKS OUT PEIT IN 2ND ROUND

Lightweight Champion from France Is Easy Picking.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14. Ad Wolgast of California knocked out Henry Peit, champion lightweight of France, in the second round of a scheduled 20-round bout before the West Side Athletic club this afternoon.

A terrific right swing to the jaw put the Frenchman on the floor for the count of six early in the second round, and fierce in-fighting culminating in a crashing jab to the stomach put him out a minute later.

Wolgast weighed 129 pounds, Piet about 134. The Frenchman made the mistake of rushing Wolgast from the start and brought the sudden onslaught upon himself.

ARELLANES AND WOLTER ARE WELCOMED HOME

SAN JOSE, Nov. 14.—A picked nine of big leaguers, including Frank Arellanes, Harry Wolter of the Boston Americans, Hap Smith, who goes to the Chicago Nationals next year, and Elmer Strickletl, today defeated a picked nine of Santa Clara county amateur leaguers. A big crowd gave Arellanes and Wolter a warm "welcome home." Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Big Leaguers	6	10	3
All Stars	3	7	4

Batteries—Arellanes, Wolter and Eager; Stillwell and Martinelli.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The Pilgrims of England, and a picked eleven from the New York Association football league today played a fast 2 to 2 game of soccer in Brooklyn.

WOLGAST SIGNS TO MEET BROCK AFTER THE POWELL FIGHT

NEW ORLEANS, November 14.—At a conference between Tom McGinty of Cleveland, manager of Phil Brock, and Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast yesterday, they came to an agreement that immediately after Wolgast meets Powell in San Francisco, if he is successful, he will return and box Brock, or Brock will journey to California and take on Wolgast.

Brock journeyed from New York to the coast to meet the winner of the Wolgast-Nelson bout and as Jones had previously booked Ad for a theatrical engagement through the Middle West, Brock was compelled to wait as Nelson decided on a long rest. It is certain the West Side Club will make a bid for this contest, as Tom Andrews has been after Brock for some time.

Brock will start hard work tomorrow with Georgie Kitson at the Royal Athletic Club. Jack Heinch of Chicago, will be here in a few days to take on Adam Smith and will work with Brock.

"JACK" JOHNSON NEVER BUTTS IN

Fight fans who take keen delight in reading of Jack Johnson's "joy rides" and frequent arrests for breaking speed limits often wonder how it is that he, a colored pugilist, is never barred from swell hotels as has been the fate of Battling Nelson and Jack O'Brien, white fighters.

The answer is this: Johnson knows his place. He knows the prejudice that exists in many quarters concerning the black man. Outside of that he knows the many exclusive hostelries do not care for the patronage of prize fighters. Therefore he never puts himself in the way of trouble. He never seeks accommodation at these hotels, and is therefore never turned down.

When he travels he makes it a point to ride on the best and fastest of trains, but seldom shows himself to the passengers. Reservations are usually made through his manager and he takes a stateroom or drawing room to himself. There he is served with his meals and it goes without saying that he receives every attention possible from the bowing and scraping porters and colored waiters.

SIR THOS. LIPTON IS A HAPPY MAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—It was said at the Lambs Club, where Sir Thomas Lipton had been a guest of the trustees of the Larchmont Yacht Club, that he has come to an understanding with the New York Yacht club regarding the conditions under which another race for the America's cup may be sailed in 1911.

His next challenge, it is understood, will be so framed as to meet the approval of the governors of the New York Yacht Club.

BARNEY OLDFIELD SHATTERS RECORD

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 14.—Automobile records on a three-quarter mile track were swept away this afternoon on the new Fair Grounds loop.

Barney Oldfield, in a mile dash against time, made the distance in 55 seconds, five seconds faster than any ever before made on a three-quarter mile loop.

In the ten mile event the Burman car won and the Jackson, driven by Clark, was second. The time was 9:42 for the ten miles, which was another record.

SANTA CLARA 15 BEATS RELIANCE

SANTA CLARA, Nov. 14.—The Santa Clara College Rugby team won a hard fought match game from the Reliance Club of Oakland this afternoon on the Solality grounds. A large crowd saw the visitors put up a stubborn fight for first honors. The score was 13 to 6.

JEFFRIES FAVORS HAVING REFEREE OUTSIDE THE RING

NEW YORK, November 14.—"If I had my way I would have the man selected to referee my championship fight with Jack Johnson judge the battle from outside of the ring, just like they do in England," said James J. Jeffries. This announcement was made by the big champion after listening to an argument between Sam Berger, Bob Vernon and Jack Gleason, the California fight promoter, as to whether a referee should be in the ring with the fighters.

"I always have been in favor of the English style of having the referee on the outside," said Jeffries, "for, in the first place, a fighter over there knows if he holds on he may be disqualified. In England the referee cautions a man only once. Fearing disqualification, they do more fighting than holding. I really think they should try the English style over here, for it would result in faster and better fights, that would give the crowd a better run for its money. I hate to see fighters hold on in the clinches. I, for one, like to keep fighting all the time."

AD WOLGAST CAN MAKE 122 POUNDS FOR ABE ATTELL, THE CHAMPION

NEW ORLEANS, November 14.—Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast, announced yesterday that he was willing to post $1,000 that Wolgast would make 122 pounds at the ringside for a fight for the featherweight championship of the world with Abe Attell, the present holder of the title, at any time after December 10th.

Jones was very bitter in talking about some assertions which, it is claimed, Attell made toward Wolgast. He said: "Attell has tried to make it appear that the reason he would not give Wolgast a return match was that Ad could not make less than 124. I am ready to put up this money to call Attell's bluff, and at the same time to show that Wolgast is a legitimate featherweight and willing to fight Attell for the featherweight championship."

Jones stated that he would make every effort to get Attell and Wolgast in the ring after Wolgast's fight with Powell on the coast.

WELL, LISTEN TO THIS.

CHICAGO, November 14.—Yank Kennedy, who is suing Jack Johnson for $2,000 back salary for services rendered as sparring partner at the Cedar Lake, Ind., training quarters, says Johnson bought a cow and made a milkmaid out of him. "For milking and tending the pigs and pulling on the gloves with him and working my head nearly pounding his gym work he paid me nought, therefore I sue. Johnson is a clever boxer, but he hasn't the punch in spite of what he sent with Ketchell seemed to show."

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Perrin Colony team was powerless before the superb pitching of Schmidt of the Bitters yesterday afternoon on Ned Bopp's grounds. The Bitters won 5 to 1. For five innings the exhibition was a good one, the score standing 1 to 1. Then the Bitters fell on D. Borse's delivery and pounded him all over the lot, rolling up seven runs and clinching the game. As a whole, the contest was fast and fortune being played in the remarkably fast time of an hour and twenty minutes. Next Sunday, the Bitters journey to Madera for a whack at the Ponies. Last evening, Manager Bopp of the winners, issued a challenge to the Kutners and Republicans for a game at any time and on any grounds.

Yesterday's lineup:

Bitters.	Perrins
Henry	Dunn
Schmidt	Hoberg
Waters	Herman Berg
Miller	Harry Berg
Smith	Hall
Ehat	A. Berg
Fries	Hogg
Lee	Fostick
Seibert	Bates

WALTER JOHNSON HURLS ALL-NATIONALS TO VICTORY

Angels Drop Every Game to the Visitors from the East.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—The All-Nationals were too strong in the infield for Los Angeles again today, and this fact, together with the wildness of Koestner and the fine pitching of Walter Johnson, resulted in a score of 9 to 1. Johnson and Snodgrass, composing the All-Nationals' battery, both are Southern California products and they were given an ovation. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Los Angeles	1	7	4
All-Nationals	9	12	0

Batteries, Koestner and Orendorff; Johnson and Snodgrass.

O'BRIEN AND KAUFMAN OFFERED $7500 TO FIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, November 14.—The National Athletic Club of this city today offered Jack O'Brien and Al Kaufman a purse of $7,500 to box six rounds, the bout to take place inside of six weeks. O'Brien accepted the terms at once, and said that he would make Kaufman a present of $1,000 if the California blacksmith would attach his name to the articles of agreement. O'Brien is so confident that Kaufman will sign the articles that he started training immediately.

Kaufman has never appeared before a Philadelphia audience, and for that reason the fight would be of special interest. Followers of pugilism here have heard a whole lot about the big Californian and his ability, and would be willing to contribute something to see him in action.

JOHNSON NOT ANXIOUS TO MEET BLACK SAM LANGFORD

As Johnson did not compel Kaufman and Ketchel to put up $10,000 before meeting them in the ring, it is hard to understand why he names this condition for a mix with Langford, says an exchange. The latter offers to bet $5,000 on the side and will make Johnson a present of $1,000 the moment he enters the ring. A Johnson-Langford battle in California would probably draw a $25,000 gate, if not more, and if Johnson should win he would clean up as much money as he received for beating Ketchel. Langford has made a reasonable proposition to Johnson, and means what he says. If Johnson does not want to be accused of cowardice he will accept this offer, and by whipping the dangerous Boston negro convince the sporting world that Jeffries is the only man who has a chance to defeat him.

SCRIPPS "FLYER" IS BADLY BEATEN

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 14.—Sacramento held a fall regatta today under the auspices of the Washington Motor Boat Club. The feature event was the speed race of thirteen miles, won by the Fighting Bob II, owned by Mitchell & Kline, and the fastest boat in the state, in 26:08. P. N. B. Pankost & Reynolds, was second, covering the distance in 27:20, and the Azores, Dr. Manuel Silva, was third, in 29:30.

In the semi-speed event for motor runabouts, Herman Koch's Pirate II won from the Scripps Flyer, covering five miles in 11 minutes.

"KID" M'COY WILL TRAIN JEFFRIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Norman Selby, popularly known as "Kid" McCoy, who arrived here a few days ago with an offer of $50,000 for the Jeffries-Johnson fight, if it be held in Paris, is now considering a proposition to help put Jeffries in condition for the battle. McCoy, who is known as one of the fleetest-footed and most scientific boxers of his time, has received an offer from Jeffries to remain with him as a boxing instructor, and it is considered probable that he will accept.

USE OF HORSES IS RAPIDLY DECREASING

The steady increase by fire department in the use of motor-driven apparatus is another reminder of the passing of the horse, at least in cities, says H. H. Windsor in the November Popular Mechanics. This season has witnessed a much smaller number of horses on the streets and boulevards; in fact a horse-drawn pleasure vehicle is hardly safe when driven on streets used by motors, and has become positively unattractive to those who have once used a car. The elements of time, speed, reliability, and control are all in favor of the motor car, while the relative cost of operation is not much in favor of the horse, and soon will be against him. Taxicabs are driving out the horse cabs, and delivery and heavy team trucks are putting on engines. The increase in the number of this type from now on will be rapid.

OLD JOE CORBETT BETTER PITCHER THAN ADAMS

Work of Californian Compared With That of Pittsburg Man.

H. G. Merrill, one of the best informed of the older baseball writers, in his weekly letter to the Sporting News, gives Joe Corbett a "shade" over "Babe" Adams, Pittsburg's great youngster. Merrill says:

"Kid" Adams was the Alpha and the Omega of the world's series between Pittsburg and Detroit, in the same manner in which "Joe" Corbett performed in the memorable series for the Temple Cup between Baltimore and Cleveland in 1898. In a large sense, I consider Corbett's work much more sensational than that of Adams. The latter joined Pittsburg with a splendid record in the American Association. Not so with Corbett. He had been considered too light for the Orioles by Manlon and was farmed to the Scranton team along with Frank Bowerman. Corbett simply couldn't do anything in the Eastern League for Scranton, losing about every game he pitched, and he was finally sent back to Baltimore to Manager Griffin, Bowerman remaining awhile longer. Late in the season Mr. Hanlon took a chance on Joe Corbett in a few games. Then came the Temple Cup series with Cleveland which was won by Baltimore in four successive contests, Hoffer winning two games by scores of 7-1 and 6-2, while Corbett won two games on scores of 7-2 and 5-0. Corbett's work created the greatest surprise of the year.

HANS WAGNER HANDS BOUQUETS TO HIS RIVAL, COBB.

Says Tyrus Is Most Finished Ball Player in America.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 14.—Hans Wagner has issued this statement in giving his opinion of Tyrus Cobb as a ball player:

From what I have seen of Ty Cobb, and what I have heard of him, I don't hesitate to say that the "Georgia Peach" is the most finished ball player in America today. There isn't one department of the game in which he shows a weakness. His base-running is simply marvelous, because it is not only speedy, but so well timed. At bat he never seems to be guessing while his fielding and throwing are all that could be desired of an outfielder. There may be men who excel Cobb in some slight particular, but when it comes to making every element of the makeup of a real ball player into consideration, including gameness, I feel certain that Cobb has it on every man playing baseball in the world today.

Cobb is the fastest man I have ever seen. I never thought he could have that much speed. I heard a lot about Cobb and how fast he was, but he surprised me by the speed he showed on bases last Saturday.

Cobb is what I call a perfect player. He lacks nothing. There isn't a thing that a ball player should have that Cobb hasn't got, and he's got a bunch of things that no other ball player has. But I don't think Cobb is as good as he can be, or as he will be. He is still a young man. He has not reached his prime. Now if he takes good care of himself, and there isn't any reason why he shouldn't, he will be good for ten years to come.

Cobb has got a lot ahead of him, and he should be even better than he is now. A man keeps on improving till he gets to his prime, and Cobb has several years to live before reaching his prime.

REPUBLICANS SHOW CLASS AGAINST KUTNERS

Bennett's Men Hold Opponents to 5 to 5 Tie, Ten Rounds.

PRESTON STAR AT BAT

Harriman Allows Les Knapp's Crew But Five Hits.

Art Bennett's Republicans played their way into the good graces of the fans yesterday afternoon at Recreation Park, when they held Les Knapp's aggregation of amateurs and State Leaguers to a 5 to 5 tie in an exciting ten-inning struggle. Despite the inclement weather, a fair-sized crowd witnessed the affair and when the sun peeped forth the bleacherites became sufficiently enthused to cheer for their respective favorites.

Many fans stayed away from the ball yard, thinking that the game would not be pulled off with the clouds threatening to leak at any minute, hanging over the park.

The teams gave a good exhibition of the national game and the loyal fans were given their money's worth. It was dark when Umpire Charley Klein rang down the curtain with the score tied, 5 to 5. The result was a huge surprise, inasmuch as it was doped out that the Kutners had the best of the argument, due to the State Leaguers in their lineup. George Harriman was on the mudhill for the Republicans and he held Knapp's men to five hits, one a three-bagger by Milt Maul in the second frame. Symons gleaned two safeties off the big boxman.

Symons was relieved by Schimpff in the seventh, after the Republicans had tied the score. Klein and Preston secured doubles off Symons' delivery.

Preston's stickwork was easily the feature, the clever initial sacker securing two doubles in four trips to the rubber. His hitting scored three of the five runs. Maul triple in the second chased one Kutner across.

The fans were not satisfied with the result, and the good showing of Bennett's men entitles them to another whirl with the Kutners. Many fans believe that the Republicans stand a splendid chance of copping the amateur title to Fresno this winter. The score:

SCORE BY INNINGS.

		R.	H.	E.
Kutners	111 110 000 0	5	5	4
Republicans	030 000 200 0	5	8	3

The batting order:

Kutners—Maul-Giger, ss; Loucks, cf; Schimff, 3b; Owens, c; Symons, p; Duncan, 1b; Gilbert, 2b; Ford, lf; Redferd, rf.

Republicans—Preston, 1b; Baldwin cf; Reuter, lf; King, c; Klein, ss; Ashley, 2b; Brant, 3b; White, rf; Harriman, p.

Next Sunday, Knapp will take his Kutners to Hanford for another tryout with the crack Kings county bunch. For the following Sunday he is planning to bring the Hanford team here for a game.

CONTEST ON FOR ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF A. A. UNION.

NEW YORK, November 14.—A contest is on between Everett C. Brown of Chicago, and G. M. Pennyman of Baltimore, for the presidency of the Amateur Athletic Union, which will hold its annual convention here tomorrow. President James E. Sullivan has declined re-election after serving three years.

The committee on records met in the Hotel Astor today and it was announced that the number of amateur records established during the last 12 months was greatly in excess of that for previous recent years.

SEVEN MACHINES

Readers of the Republican's sporting page will notice a new style of headlines this morning. The new "heads" are simple Gothic 24-point and 36-point letters—in other words 1-3 and 1-2 inch high—but they represent a new advance, not merely in the Republican's equipment, but in the art of setting type by machinery. Hitherto, as is well known, the small or "body" type of the paper, and also the medium sizes of type in headlines and advertisement, up to 12-point, or even 14-point, have been set by machinery, but all the larger sizes, such as are used in the top lines of the larger "heads" and the large display lines of advertisements, have been set by hand. The Republican's latest linotype, just installed (making the seventh) has a new attachment, by which the larger sizes may be cast by machinery also, and all the headlines on the sporting page this morning are machine set. There is no difference, of course, in the appearance of the paper, between hand-set and machine-cast type, except that the machine type is new every night and is always sharp and clean, but there is a vast difference in the mechanical problem of handling the two.

The Republican's typesetting equipment now consists of seven linotypes—more than twice as many as are used by any other paper between San Francisco and Los Angeles, and two more than both the evening newspapers in Fresno combined. Three of these machines are two-magazine machines, making ten magazines, each capable of setting two sorts of type, continually delivering their product for the Republican's forms. The added machine is but the first of the contemplated improvements which, when completed, will raise the Republican mechanically to full metropolitan equipment.

WRONG SPONSORS

The Union League Club held a dinner in San Francisco Saturday night which resolved itself into a boom for the renomination of Governor Gillett. The speeches were made by the push, but there was carefully injected into the attendance just sprinkling enough of well-known Lincoln-Roosevelt League men to give the double impression that the two factions are at "harmony," and that the anti-machine Progressives are only an infinitesimal and well-swallowed minority, anyway.

With the pleasant after-dinner cordiality to Governor Gillett personally of course everybody will sympathize. The governor is personally popular, and his administration of the executive duties has at many points won deserved commendation. If anybody wants to give the governor a dinner we will all sing "For he's a Jolly Good Fellow"—and mean it. But if Governor Gillett is to be really and seriously a candidate for re-election, we wish the boom might be started in some other way than by a meeting presided over by Mike de Young, with Tom Dozier as principal speaker, and Henry Ach, W. M. Abbott, Thornwell Mullally, W. E. Dargie, Tirey L. Ford, Colonel George Pippy and Sam Shortridge as among the most prominent representatives of true Republicanism present. It was that sort of sponsorship that brought Candidate Gillett to the precarious verge of defeat when he ran before, at a time when all his previous record indicated that he would not permit these sponsors to control him. It is the acceptance of these and similar men, and what they stand for, as the guiding stars of his political administration that now stands as the most serious blot on Gillett's record. If it had been known, before Gillett was elected, that these men and the machine in which they are cogs would stand to him as governor in the position which in fact they did occupy, no power on earth, not even the Langdon diversion, could have prevented Gillett's defeat. And now, by allowing them to be the sponsors for a possible second candidacy, Governor Gillett supplies his opponents with their strongest weapon against him.

Governor Gillett made his fight before on the assertion that he would be free of the railroad machine. The circumstances of his nomination were against him, but his previous record was in his favor, and the people believed him—or at least enough of them to win in a lop-sided, three cornered fight. If Governor Gillett wants to win again, it must be by making the people believe again that he will be free of the railroad-owned machine. That will not be easy, with the record of his administration behind him, and this sort of booming will make it impossible.

Let it be squarely understood. The issue against the continued domination of this state by the hired boss of a foreign corporation is going to be raised, and it is going to be fought out. If Governor Gillett wants to run as the candidate of that machine, that is his privilege. He is its strongest and best man, and he can take the chance of going up or down with that machine. But he can not get the support of the opponents of that machine by any cheap "harmony" bluff, led by Mike de Young and Tom Dozier. If he wants their support, let him declare and demonstrate his independence. If anybody wants their support, let it be on those terms.

And if the Union League Club wants the Republican party to win, let it not encumber it with the too notorious leadership of the attorneys and supporters of Abe Ruef, or of the indicated partners in crime of Patrick Calhoun. The people of this state are Republicans. They want a Republican administration. But there are limits to their endurance. Mike de Young, Tom Dozier, Henry Ach, Sam Shortridge, W. M. Abbott, Thornwell Mullally, W. E. Dargie, Tirey L. Ford, all thrust forward with brazen impudence as Republican leaders—that passes the limit. That is not the sort of Republicanism in which the Republican people of Republican California believe, and if that is the sort of Republicanism that is to be offered to them for their acceptance, they will reject it.

That is certain.

WEST PARKERS WENT TO MODESTO TO MARRY

Word has come that Morrill T. Lockhart and Miss Marie Peterson, both of Fresno, were married by Rev. J. W. Webb at his home in Modesto last Wednesday afternoon. The young people and the Webb family have been friends for years as residents in West Park colony. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lockhart left for San Francisco for their honeymoon. The groom is engaged in the automobile business here. They will return from their honeymoon in a new automobile and on the trip Mr. Lockhart will act as advance agent for the Fresno Native Sons' minstrel show.

BIG STORM ON LAKES GROWS IN INTENSITY

DULUTH, Nov. 14.—The steamer James J. Hoyt, which is stranded on a reef two miles northeast of Otter Island, one of the Apostle group, is in comparative safety, according to the officers of the steamer J. H. Barlow, which arrived in Duluth tonight. The heavy storm of Friday night was safely weathered by the grounded vessel and unless the wind veers she will be comparatively safe.

The Barlow lay alongside during the storm and was able to communicate with men on board the Hoyt.

Reports from the north shore of Lake Superior tonight indicate that the storm is growing in intensity and is accompanied by a blinding blizzard. Ninety boats are tied up at the Soo on account of the storm.

PEARY LECTURES ON POLE QUEST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Commander Robert E. Peary delivered his second lecture, describing his recent dash for the North Pole, in the Belasco theater tonight before members of the National Geographic Society and their invited guests. He did not refer to Dr. Cook, although he insisted more than once that his own discovery was rendered possible only by knowledge gained through twenty-three years of Arctic experiences and in elaborate plans made before the expedition left the ship at Grantsland. It was only by almost phenomenal luck, Peary declared, that the main party was able to return to the ship in the time it did, even though the trail had been blazed and the way prepared by the supporting parties that had fallen back on their base earlier.

EMBASSY ARRIVES FROM NEW SULTAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The special Ottoman embassy, sent to this country to announce the ascension to the throne of the new Sultan, arrived today. The embassy consisted of, Zia Pasha, formerly Turkish ambassador at Vienna and at Rome and minister of imperial archives and public instruction, and Colonel Aziz Bey, formerly military attache of the Turkish legation in Washington, and consul general of Turkey at New York.

The mission will be received by the secretary of state tomorrow. In the afternoon they will be received by the President and later dine with him at the White House.

SHOTGUN BREAKS SIX WATERSPOUTS

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—A shotgun in the hands of Captain Cooper of the steamer Hannah P. Mull, which arrived today from Progresso, Mexico, proved successful in breaking waterspouts that threatened his vessel. When fifty miles off Cape Hatteras last Wednesday the steamer encountered the recent westerly hurricane in a mild form. Six great waterspouts reared out of the sea near the steamer, but were disintegrated by the captain's well aimed shots.

FATAL INJURIES IN A PITTSBURG FIRE

PITTSBURG, Nov. 14.—Three unidentified men are dead, five others are seriously injured and twelve men and women are suffering from bruises and shock, the result of a fire in a lodging house on the river front early today.

When the fire broke out thirty persons were asleep in the building. Firemen aroused them and carried the women and children to a place of safety. The unidentified foreigners were not discovered until this afternoon when persons cleared away the debris from a stairway.

BOY'S BODY IS FOUND IN CHIMNEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The body of five-year-old Frank De Rosa, who it was believed had been kidnaped ten days ago, was found today jammed in the top of a chimney of his aunt's house on East Sixty-third street. He had been visiting there with his mother when he disappeared. It was the consensus of opinion that the boy had been strangled and pushed down the chimney.

TURKISH PARLIAMENT OPENED BY SULTAN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 14.—Sultan Mehmed V., attended by the heir apparent and the imperial princes, opened the grand session of parliament today with great pomp and ceremony. The grand vizier, Hilmi Pasha, read the speech from the throne, which was a conservative document, dealing chiefly with internal affairs. No mention was made of Crete, but the following passage is regarded as referring to that island:

"While intending to maintain its inprescriptable rights and legitimate interests, my government makes it a point of honor to be an essential element of order and peace."

WANT BETTER RATES.

DENVER, Col., November 14.—The tourist rate convention, which opens in Denver tomorrow, will inaugurate a movement to obtain a flat $25 tourist rate from Chicago to Colorado common points. It was called by Governor John F. Shafroth and includes representatives from all commercial bodies of the state.

BRIEF EDITORIAL FANCIES SELECTED

Miss Boyd Leader

The hundreds of friends of the late Miss Nellie Boyd were pained to hear of her death which occurred Saturday. Miss Boyd was for years a leader in the work of the Woman's Club in this valley and stood high in the State Federation. She was in many ways a brilliant woman, and gathered about her many warm friends wherever she went. No woman in Fresno county has probably taken a deeper interest in the welfare of her sex than did Miss Boyd, and she was practical and wise in her ideas.—Hanford Sentinel.

Who Is the Cad?

That brilliant light of diplomacy, Spencer Eddy, who married granddaughter of the late Claus Spreckels of San Francisco, is said by the New York Globe to be telling a story of the horrible experience he went through when a San Francisco friend ate peas with his knife at a London dinner.

Eddy is a Chicagoan, and his story is amusing to Californians, for when Chicago's millionaires were still serving headcheese for dessert and pigs'-feet for breakfast, Californians were returning from European tours where they were indistinguishable from other civilized beings by their table manners, except that Californians conducted themselves at the table better than the average Europeans. No Californian abroad has ever behaved in the way British lords have in this country, and several of the lords had titles, too. Nor does it become a New York paper to discuss crudity of table manners, for the public restaurants there give an opportunity for comparison that puts the average Gothamite in the ultra ill-bred class.

There is another point of view. Even if Eddy's San Francisco friend did commit the horrible faux pas of eating peas with his knife, he must have been a decent fellow—too decent to have told tales about Eddy had Eddy, for example, come to California and made a fool of himself, as many such persons do, in discussing local affairs and history. If Eddy told the story accredited to him by the New York Globe it is Eddy who is the boor and the cad for deerying his guest, and not the mythical San Franciscan. —Sacramento Union.

Ireland's Cause

Philadelphia's keen interest in the affairs of Ireland will be demonstrated once more in the town meeting to be held in the Academy of Music tonight, when thousands of liberty-loving, patriotic sons and daughters of Erin will hear the latest reports of the progressive home rule movement.

This interest in Ireland's advance and in the long-continued effort to give to her people the rights of self-government, which will mean so much for progress, is not wholly a sentimental one. Philadelphia's sympathizers with the Irish cause are practical—they believe in Ireland, and they show their faith in the fight in dollars and cents.

No other community in this country has been so liberal in its support of the Irish cause as has Philadelphia. Some of the city's most prominent citizens are of Irish descent, and they have contributed to the relief of the "old country" liberally according to their worldly success.

Yet, it is not only the rich who have helped the Irish cause, and it was John Redmond who, upon his last visit, remarked upon the generosity of those of limited means who measured their gifts not according to their store, but according to their heart. T. P. O'Connor brings the message from Ireland this time, and it is not doubted that some of the encouragement he will take back with him will be in the substantial form of American money.

In their untiring fight for Ireland, in their self-sacrifices and unselfish devotion, the Irish people and the Irish leaders set a worthy example to the rest of the world. In their support of the cause, in their free-giving as a sort of thank offering in appreciation of their own opportunities here, the Irish men and women of America teach a splendid lesson in practical interest.—Philadelphia Times.

SEAL SKIN CROP IS 600 SHORT

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 14.—Owing to the decimination of the fur seal herds, the kill on the Bering Sea rookeries this year was 600 short of the number permitted by law, 15,000 skins, according to officers of the revenue cutter Thetis, which has just arrived from the seal islands.

AEROPLANE SMASHED TO AVOID COLLISION

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The first instance of an accident that soon may be common occurred at Morris Park today when an aeroplane was deliberately run into a fence and smashed to avoid collision with a man who had a baby in his arms.

Dr. William Green was about to alight from a practice flight this afternoon when he saw a man with a baby crossing his path. He brought his machine about and crashed into the fence. The biplane was smashed, but Dr. Green stepped out of the wreckage unhurt.

SOCIALISTS DENOUNCE PRUSSIAN CONSERVATIVES

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, Germany, Nov. 14.—Serious street demonstrations followed a great Socialist meeting in this city today for universal suffrage. Immense crowds marched to the Bismarck monument, where the Socialist editor, Herr Quint, denounced Bismarck as an oppressor, the crowd shouting "Down with Bismarck and the Prussian junkers."

Mounted police dispersed the marchers.

ROBBED AND WOUNDED.

STURGIS, S. D., Nov. 14.—J. J. Purcell, a claim holder near Brushie, S. D., was held up late last night by a masked bandit and robbed of $3527. Purcell was en route from Huron, S. D., with his horses and household effects in an emigrant car attached to a special freight train. A masked man entered the car when the train was moving rapidly and attacked Purcell with a knife, overpowering him and securing his money. He then threw himself out of the door. Purcell will recover.

FEW PERSONS DROWNED.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Nov. 14.—A courier reports bad weather all over the island and confirms the statement that there was no seismic disturbance. The casualty list is not large, only a few persons having been drowned by the overflowing of the rivers.

DIED.

FOSS—In Clovis, November 14, 1909. Mrs. Mary Foss, aged 71 years. Funeral notice later.

HOW WILL CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE TREAT INSURGENTS

Representative Loudenslager, secretary and acting chairman of the Republican congressional committee, in a telegram to The Post denies that his committee has declared war on the insurgents or served notice that an effort will be made to prevent their return to Congress. He asserts that the only object and purpose of the committee over which he presides is to assist in the election of Republican members of Congress.

Mr. Loudenslager's statement deals with the form rather than with the substance of the issue raised regarding the attitude of the "regulars" toward the insurgents. War has not been formally declared, of course, but everybody knows that at the present time within the party are hostile camps which may begin battle at any moment. It does not matter which side starts the rumpus. The other side is eager for the fray.

The public and private reception extended the so-called insurgents upon their return to their homes at the close of the session and the voice of the people as expressed in public gatherings on the lecture platform and in the press indicate that in the minds of their constituents, at least, these insurgents have been the regulars of their party. Every member enrolled among the Republican opponents of the tariff bill as finally agreed to in conference will return to Washington next month fresh from the people whose support is behind him.

The history of political parties in this country does not produce precedents upon which the success of an attempt to discipline the insurgents can be predicated. The insurgents contend that they still are Republicans, and that, so far as the tariff is concerned, they, and not the regulars, represent the sentiment of the Republican party. The Republican congressional committee is a law unto itself, and must determine who are Republicans when it comes to extending assistance in electing them to Congress. As at present constituted, it would not regard an insurgent as a Republican, and assistance therefore probably would be withheld.

The committee may cry peace, but its hand is raised against the insurgents. It is fighting, as Speaker Cannon is fighting, against rebellion in the Republican party. The insurgents, when supplies are withheld, are very likely to think war conditions prevail, whatever the committee may say. But the insurgents are not relying upon the committee for nourishment. They are fighting their own way.

Mr. Loudenslager is right in stating that war has not been declared by the committee. But it was hardly necessary. The war was already on. Speaker Cannon, less reserved than the committee, declared war some weeks ago.—Washington Post.

MINE VICTIMS MAY YET BE RESCUED

The jury adjourned after Cowley, John Raisbeck, engineer in the air shaft, and several relatives of the dead in the rescue party had testified. The jury will meet again tomorrow. More testimony concerning Cowley's refusal to lift the cage will be heard.

Excitement disappeared with the discontinuation of efforts to explore the mine and the dispersing of the great crowds. Provisions are being made for handling the dead when they are found.

MANY GAVE UP.

William Vickers, who was at work at the face of the mine, was one of the few who came out alive. For more than 300 yards he crawled in the dark on hands and knees, using the rail as a guide to the bottom of the shaft. At one point he says he met sixty-five miners sitting in a row along the road. They had given up the struggle and were waiting resignedly for death.

"I and my buddy (partner) were at work on the second vein level when the alarm of fire was sounded," said Vickers. "We started from the bottom, but had gone only a few feet when our lights went out. The entry was fast filling with smoke, which filled our eyes and made us gasp for breath.

"Several times we attempted to light our lamps, but without success. All about us we could hear shouts of our comrades in adjoining rooms who, like ourselves, had been left in the dark. Calling to my buddy, I warned him to get close to the roadbed, and I dropped to my hands and knees and began to crawl along the rails, shouting at intervals at my buddy to let him know where I was. We passed about sixty-five miners sitting by the roadside almost in a stupor. I tried to rouse them and encourage them to go on, but they seemed to have given up all hope and did not stir. I had no time to lose and continued on, expecting to send relief from the shaft.

BOTH RESCUED.

"When within 100 feet of the mine mouth, I began to grow faint from the effects of smoke and exhaustion. The smoke was growing more dense every foot I went and my courage was fast ebbing. I pulled my coat closely about my face and, bending closely to the rail, struggled on.

"I escaped death by just three minutes. When I arrived at the bottom of the shaft the last cage had reached the top and was about to descend. I shouted as the signal was ringing and two men broke their way to me and dragged me to the cage. I then lost consciousness. When I came to I was safely on top.

"My buddy had followed closely all the way out, and, encouraged by the light held by the cage men, managed to reach the shaft and was carried with me to safety."

A tobacco pouch was the means of saving the lives of John Phillips and Edward Surrock, miners in the second vein. Phillips, on his way to the shaft found Surrock lying on the track in the main entry way. He dragged his comrade until he himself was overcome by the smoke.

SAVED BY POUCH.

"With a miner's intuition, he searched for something to cover his nose and mouth. The only thing available was the small sack in which he carried tobacco. Placing one end in his mouth, he pulled the rest over his nose and fastened it about his head with the string. By crawling with his head close to the rail, he struggled toward the shaft, dragging his almost lifeless comrade with him.

One of the heroic incidents of the rescue work was the saving of John McGill and his young son. They left the place where they were working when the alarm was given. Before half the journey was completed the boy began to grow dizzy. Slapping his father's hand, he sank to his knees, exclaiming "Pa, I am dying. Leave me and save yourself if you can."

Although greatly weakened himself, the father raised the now unconscious son, and taking off his belt, strapped the boy on his back and struggled on. Within sight of the shaft he staggered and fell. Before losing consciousness he yelled for help, and his cries were heard. Rescuers bore them to the cage.

One pitiful case is that of the Love family. Mrs. John Love is not only left a widow, but four sons are believed to have perished.

STREET DESOLATED.

A canvass of what is known as Long Row, a street which has on one side a row of thirty-three houses identical in appearance, has revealed that only two men in all the houses are numbered among the living. Each of the thirty-three has from one to four dead.

The story of the thirteen heroes who went down to their death in the blazing shaft of the Cherry mine and of the one man who came back, scarred by fire and blackened by smoke, to tell the ghastly story, is being related today in all its details.

Standing out above all the others is the story of Dr. L. B. Howe, "the man who came back," the only one of the heroic fourteen who survived to tell what happened. Seven times before the other rescuers began to go down in the burning shaft, he went down alone in a lift. Each time he brought to the surface his quota of saved. Twenty-five miners owe their lives to him.

Today his hands are badly burned but he shows no other scar. When asked to describe his experience, he said:

"I couldn't have done anything else than I did. It is not worth talking about. Besides, I am too busy to talk today."

MANY HEROES.

The disaster brought to light many unnamed heroes. Among these was a miner who, when fighting his way through the blinding smoke, stumbled across the body of a little "trapper" boy, who had been overcome at his post at one of the trap doors that control the air supply.

Finding that life still existed, he picked up the boy and, placing him on his shoulders, staggered on until he met one of the rescuers. Both the miner and the boy reached the surface.

All the state mine inspectors from the ten districts comprising the coal fields arrived today. Thomas Hudson of Galva, in whose district the ill-fated mine is situated, was the first to arrive. He was closely followed by Hector McAllester of Streator, who has many friends who were killed in the disaster. Hudson and McAllester joined in declaring the equipment of the mine the most modern and efficient in the state. They also said the officials and superintendents had instituted and operated a thorough system of safety measures. When questioned regarding the blame for the fire, Hudson said:

WELL EQUIPPED.

"From what I have learned, I can only say that carelessness—criminal carelessness—on the part of some men working in the second vein level is responsible.

"The mine was equipped with all modern safety devices and was well arranged. I made an investigation recently and found everything in shape. I found that all state regulations were being obeyed. Officials and managers apparently are not responsible for the tragedy. Blame rests directly upon the shoulders of the men themselves."

When it was discovered that there remained a chance to rescue alive perhaps a score of miners in the safety row in the third vein, hurried arrangements for getting air currents into that section of the mine were made. Howard Hazen personally directed the shipment from his Rockwell mile, east of La Salle, of a large fan to replace the one destroyed by fire. The fan and equipment were loaded into freight cars and taken fifteen miles to Cherry in two hours.

The mine company and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad have announced that they will pay all funeral expenses. In anticipation of a possible rescue of badly burned and injured men, six trained nurses arrived from Chicago tonight. They brought with them a large supply of drugs, bandages and dressings for wounds.

For Constipation

A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Gives Satisfactory Relief.

If you are suffering from constipation in any form whatever, acute or chronic, we will guarantee to supply you medicine that we honestly believe will effect permanent relief if taken with regularity and according to directions for a reasonable length of time. Should the medicine fail to benefit you to your entire satisfaction we promise that it will cost you nothing.

No other remedy can be compared with Rexall Orderlies for the easy, pleasant and successful treatment of constipation. The active medicinal ingredients of this remedy, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other valuable ingredients, it forms a preparation which is incomparable as a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, and are notable for their gentle and agreeable action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience, and may be taken at any time, day or night.

We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children and for delicate or aged persons, because they do not contain anything injurious. Unlike other preparations, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the habits acquired through use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and remove the causes of constipation or irregular bowel action that are not of surgical variety.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. We know of nothing that will do you so much good. They are prepared in tablet form in two sizes: 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Fresno only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Monroe Drug Co.

A Delicate Threat

Probably you haven't had any trouble for several months, but you may have now. Cool nights and snappy mornings may bring unpleasant reminders of a delicate throat. If you grow hoarse without apparent reason, if an ugly hack arises you need "LAMAR LUNG SYRUP" at once.

Old King Cole was a jolly old soul,
But not so merry as they
Who sit by their grate never filled with slate, singing:

BULLARD BORERS GIVE A BANQUET

Southern and Local Business Men at the Board.

Importance of Project Emphasized Should Oil Be Struck in Field.

The Hughes Hotel cafe was the scene of an enjoyable banquet last evening, when F. W. Spaulding, an oil and mining man and vice-president of the Western Consolidated Oil Company, was the host to eighteen representative business men of Los Angeles and Fresno. A few of the directors of the oil company and the officers of the concern were also at the festive board.

The banquet was tendered in behalf of the company, which is boring for oil near Bullard, and was a means of introducing the directors of the Western Consolidated to the business men of Fresno.

The company is a new one in this territory and was organized in Los Angeles to open up an unproven field, ten miles northwest of Fresno near the Santa Fe railroad tracks. Work has been progressing satisfactorily for some weeks and the well is down between 400 and 500 feet.

A formation of blue clay about two feet deep was passed through at a depth of 282 feet. Then followed a stratum of sand and the drill is now passing through yellow clay. A carload of pipe will arrive at Bullard this week and the large force of workmen will continue drilling operations with renewed vigor.

Mr. Spaulding proved an entertaining host and his guests thoroughly enjoyed the bountiful repast. He is a veteran of the Civil war, when he was in the commissary department of the Federal forces. Consequently, he has an unconcealed fondness for an unlimited supply of good things to eat. Following the spread, several after-dinner speeches were made by representatives of the company and local citizens.

The visiting oil men were assured hearty moral support in their enterprise, even though the financial support might not be given by any of the guests present. The importance of the project, insofar as its location in Fresno was emphasized as of the utmost value to this city should oil be found in the new and unproven field.

Those in attendance were: G. E. Averill of Los Angeles, president of the company; E. S. Shank, Los Angeles, real estate dealer; D. W. Carlton, Los Angeles, teller of the First National Bank; H. S. Jones, Los Angeles, representing the firm of Cunningham, Curtis and Welsh; J. W. Spaulding, vice-president of the company; O. L. Wuerker, a jeweler of Los Angeles; H. G. Elliott, secretary of the company and formerly with First National Bank of Los Angeles; G. F. Stamps, superintendent of the company's well at Bullard; William Robertson, secretary of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, and T. B. McKelvy, E. J. Bullard, R. K. G. Butterfield, H. D. Carver, Ray Humphreys, J. E. Dickinson, H. L. Chotwortby, G. R. Taylor, W. O. Miles and Dr. Otis A. Longley, all of Fresno.

The Los Angeles business men arrived from the south in the morning and were shown the property by Vice-President Spaulding and Secretary Elliott. Lunch was served at the well. The visitors returned home in the evening. It was the first visit to the well by the directors and they were well pleased with what they saw.

NO VERDICT GIVEN AFTER 22 HOURS

The Jury in the Long Cattle Stealing Case Stood Ten for Acquittal of Defendant.

A jury has disagreed for a second time in the case of C. W. Long, the butcher at present of Coalinga, tried for grand larceny in that he assisted James N. Walker, Jr., in stealing five head of cattle in the spring of 1858 from the Lane's bridge ranch in Madera county, of James N. Walker, who was the fifth sheriff of Fresno county from 1868 to 1871, and before that assemblyman for two terms in 1864 and 1865, and subsequently for a second time in 1872 and 1873.

The case was submitted to the jury at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the jury was out all night under lock and key considering a verdict. It was unable to come to an agreement and at 12:30 o'clock was brought into court yesterday on the order of Judge Austin. Foreman Beeson announced that the jury could not come to a verdict.

"How does the jury stand?"

"Eight for acquittal and—"

"I don't want to know that—I mean, how is the jury divided numerically," interrupted the court.

"Eight to four," was the response.

Under the circumstances the jury was excused from further consideration of the case. On a previous and first trial the jury stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal, on much the same testimony. It stood yesterday eight for acquittal and four for conviction. It is more than likely that the case will not be pressed to a third trial. Assistant District Attorney Hawson represented the people and Attorney Wilson the accused at the announcement of the jury's disagreement, after deliberating upon the case for 22 hours.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Fresno.

Most Fresno people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Fresno cures prove it.

Scott W. Gibbons, 1006 P Street, Fresno, Cal., says: "I first noticed symptoms of kidney complaint in my case about a year and a half ago. The trouble became worse and finally I was taken with a severe attack, being compelled to lay off from work for two weeks. I recovered from this attack, but later I strained my back while doing some heavy lifting and from that time on I suffered severely. I at last learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at Baker & Gibson's drug store. I noticed an improvement before I had taken one-half the contents and I was thus led to continue their use until the backache was removed. There has been no recurrence of the trouble up to the present time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A FAVORITE FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS

"In Old Kentucky" Is Yet a Popular Play.

A Treat Is Promised in the Musical Comedy of "The Soul Kiss."

Mildred Johnson, "Madge," "In Old Kentucky."

Public approval seventeen years ago put its seal of endorsement on "In Old Kentucky," then a new play drawing crowds to the big Academy of Music, New York. Jacob Litt had prior to the Academy engagement tried the play in a summer stock company in St. Paul with success, but the long engagement in New York the following year started the play on the road to success, and from that time to the present day "In Old Kentucky" has been a favorite with American playgoers all over the land, and has achieved a record seldom equalled by any form of stage offering.

Now in its seventeenth year, it is still at the flood-tide of popularity. The plot is neither complex nor involved, but the incidents—how they multiply. The heroine is a lovable, flesh-and-blood maiden of the Kentucky mountains and she quickly secures the sympathies of the audience. There is music and dancing by an amusing score of little colored lads, a realistic horse race, a lynching party, a dynamite explosion, a realistic fire scene and the culmination of a mountaineer's feud. There is excitement and heart interest, real pathos and splendid comedy and divers stirring incidents.

This season Miss Mildred Johnson will be seen in the role of Madge Brierly, and she is said to compare favorable with the many competent actresses who have preceded her in the part. In the Academy of Music cast, when the play first created a sensation in New York, was Bert G. Clark, who played "The Colonel." He still remains with "In Old Kentucky" and has widespread fame for his interpretation of this character. The famous pickaninny brass band will constitute, as usual, an amusing part of the presentation.

"In Old Kentucky" will be the attraction at the Barton tomorrow night.

MERRY MUSICAL COMEDY.

A rare treat is in store in the announcement that "The Soul Kiss," the merry musical comedy which has enjoyed a run of three hundred performances in New York, will be the attraction at the Barton next Friday evening. Heading this musical entertainment will be found Mlle. Pertina, a premiere danseuse who has been the sensation in France and Germany. The critics and public unite in pronouncing her the only rival who bids fair to outrival Maud Allen in Classic and the modern dance. In support of Mlle. Pertina, a competent company of seventy-five fun-makers have been engaged to interpret the roles, while the chorus is heard and seen to advantage in the ensembles. Throughout the unfolding of the somewhat important story, Maurice Levi has introduced musical numbers of the quality which almost forces the feet to become active. Julian Mitchell is responsible for the staging of "The Soul Kiss," which is attractive and picturesque at all times. The seat sale for this attraction will open tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

SECURE 100 NAMES FOR ASSOCIATION

Meeting for Organization of Traffic Body Will Be Called Soon.

Fully 100 names have been secured for the proposed traffic association to be formed in Fresno, and within the next few days it is probable that a meeting will be called and formal steps taken to form the organization.

As yet the committees have not finished their canvasses for names, and it is thought likely that by the time the meeting is called half again as many names will be secured.

According to the members of the various committees, the business men are showing considerable interest in the proposed organization and are signing up immediately on being asked. The professional men particularly are taking kindly to the proposition and the membership rolls will include about all the attorneys in the city.

The question as to whether the organization shall be made one distinctly for Fresno or be allowed to expand so as to include other San Joaquin valley towns will be decided at one of the first meetings of the proposed organization, though for the present that subject is not being discussed.

DELAYED TRAIN UPSET HIS PLANS

Negro Burglar Took to Sage Brush When Pursued.

Blacksmith Called Upon to Loosen Handcuffs After His Arrest.

LOS BANOS, November 14.—Dick Burk, a negro, made a selection of two suits of clothes and underwear to match in Miller & Lux's store last Monday. Antone Negra was the clerk who waited on him and Burk told him that he did not have the money with him, but would come back after a while, which he did, but it was after dark and he did not come through the door, either, but broke through a rear window and took the packages which he had ordered done up and laid aside for him. It was his calculation to catch the northbound Owl train here when it stopped for water, but as luck would have it the train was several hours late, so he walked north along the track to Volta. Discovering City Marshal Webb in close pursuit he took up the sage brush and made a lively run for his liberty but was captured and brought back here by 10 o'clock Tuesday forenoon. In his excitement Webb lost the key to his handcuffs and had to take the prisoner to the blacksmith shop to have them cut loose. At the preliminary examination on Friday before Justice W. E. Burch, Burk pleaded guilty to burglary and was taken to the jail at Merced. During the year there have been other burglaries of like character, and it may be that it has been Burk's custom to pay these visits. A burglar stole a set of buggy harness on Sunday night from R. R. Daizell, early in the evening, but as yet no clue has been discovered.

It is reported that W. T. White, for so long head of Miller & Lux, general merchandise store in this city, will soon leave for Livingston, where he will go in partnership in the store business with his brother-in-law. Mr. White has made many friends while here, and is known throughout the San Joaquin valley.

Miss Hilda Fisher, who is attending the normal school in San Jose, was taken seriously ill during the week, and her father and brother left for an Jose Friday to be with her.

George B. M. Gray of the Royal Creamery in Oakland, was here during the week, looking over the dairy and creamery and to spend a few days duck hunting.

J. L. Jackson, formerly a prosperous farmer of this place, but now a resident of Oakland, spent a few days last week looking over his property interests.

Chance Waggoner, Henry Salau, Sr., Bert Darr and D. M. Rouse were passengers on the forenoon train today for Merced, to be in court tomorrow.

Mrs. Walsh and daughter of San Francisco, returned home Wednesday after a pleasant visit with William Phillips and family.

Mrs. Laurensen and her daughter, Mrs. Jefsen, returned home today after a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jeppe, and also Mrs. Carstensen.

About one inch of rain has fallen here this week. Stockmen are rejoicing.

DEMAND FOR HAY A VERY LIGHT ONE

The Transportation Problem Confronts Market.

Shipments Secured Only Under Reciprocal Demurrage Act.

Arrivals of hay for the week in San Francisco have been 2344 tons, as against 2625 tons for the week previous, showing a slight falling off in receipts. Contrary to that week's arrivals, two-thirds of this hay has arrived by railroad, says the hay and grain market bulletin of Scott, Magner & Miller, Inc. The lack of wind on the rivers has caused delay in a large fleet of boats which are out after hay, but this fleet is commencing to arrive, several boats having come in Saturday and larger receipts by water being looked for this week.

The country demand is almost nominal, nearly all sections of the state having had very nice warm rains during the week, and fair prospect for good pasturage is in sight. Sections of the country to which hay was shipped weekly last season at this time are willing, asking what can be given them for their hay, showing that they have hay to sell, where last year they were importing it. The export trade is far below the average, although there have been some shipments made during the week.

The market is still confronted with the railroad transportation problem, and is only able to secure cars for shipment of hay by ordering them under the reciprocal demurrage act passed by the last legislature, and even under these conditions the railroads are taking all the time allowed them under the act after orders are placed before delivering the cars to load.

Consignments of hay for owners' account are increasing daily, as is also country inquiry for sale of hay. This would lead to the belief that holders of hay in the country are anxious to dispose of their holdings at present prices, fearing that the market will be weaker from now on, owing to the immense stocks on hand, as shown by the report of the San Francisco Hay Association. Large as the amounts of hay on hand showed on the first of November, there are several districts whose reports had not arrived and where the hay association estimated the quantity. Several of these have written complaining that there was a great deal more hay in their respective sections than was put down in the report of the association. To date this amounts to about 20,000 tons. Of course it is impossible for the association to list all the hay available, and it is better to underestimate rather than overestimate, especially when the stocks on hand show such an immense tonnage.

Alfalfa is in lighter supply, and moving off a little more freely. Straw is also in light supply, but the demand is very light.

WOMEN WORKING FOR THE REVOLT

Sacrifice Jewels and Labor in Banana Fields to Insure Success of Estrada.

NEW ORLEANS, November 14.—A story of heroic support by women of the revolutionary cause in Nicaragua reached New Orleans in private advices today. It is stated that while the men and boys in Bluefields and vicinity by the hundreds have volunteered for service in the army of Estrada, the poorer women have gone into the fields to cut bananas, while the wealthier ones are selling their jewelry and giving the funds to support the army.

Consul General Louis Sequira, representing the so-called provisional government at New Orleans, has received letters stating that President Zelaya is attempting to win back the revolutionists by promising them pardon and immunity from punishment if they will lay down their arms. It is asserted not a man has accepted the offer.

STORY OF FIGHT.

COLON, Panama, November 14.—A wireless message from Bluefields, the headquarters of the provisional government, established by General Estrada, leader of the Nicaraguan rebellion, gives the rebel version of the recent fighting near the Costa Rican border. The message says:

"Fierce fighting took place on November 10th and 11th at a point near Colorado Bay and the San Juan river. General Toledo, with several hundred government troops who had invaded Costa Rican territory in order to attack the Nicaraguan rebels that were entrenched along the San Juan river, which forms the boundary between the two republics, was forced by Costa Rica to recross into Nicaragua.

"Toledo forthwith attacked the rebel troops under General Chamoro, on the Nicaraguan side of the river. The government army consisted of infantry and artillery, and repeatedly assaulted the position of the rebels.

"Although outnumbered, General Chamoro responded with great effect. After thirty-six hours of desperate fighting, President Zelaya's troops became panic stricken. Both sides lost heavily in killed and wounded.

"The promptness with which the government of Costa Rica expelled the Nicaraguans from Costa Rica territory shows that Zelaya will receive no aid from the republic to the south.

"Lack of arms has prevented the rebels advancing. Arms are expected daily. The government forces expected to reach Greytown on November 10th and hoped to proceed thence to Bluefields. This defeat checks the advance of some time and indicates Chamoro's ability to hold the San Juan valley.

"General Estrada still holds all the territory east of the 85th parallel (that is the eastern haf of Nicaragua), except a few miles on the San Juan river. Business is being carried on without interruption at Bluefields, Cape Gracias, the northeastern extremity of Nicaragua, and at San Juan del Norte (Greytown). The provisional government is being maintained in an orderly manner and it is expected that the United States government will soon recognize the government of Estrada as an important republic."

VESSELS DYNAMITED.

WASHINGTON, November 13.—Before leaving Greytown Thursday after their defeat, the Nicaraguan revolutionists dynamited the two government vessels, the Managua and the Norma, ships of 300 tons burden each, and burned various places in the city. This information is contained in a dispatch received at the Nicaraguan legation here today from President Zelaya. The recapture of Greytown is of great importance to the government, as heretofore all the ports of the Atlantic coast have been held by the revolutionists. The victory over the latter presages, in their opinion, an early collapse of the rebellion.

NILE THREATENS RUINS OF KARNAK

CAIRO, Nov. 14.—Great consternation was caused in archaeological circles a few days ago by the news that the rise of the Nile and the infiltration consequent therefrom were threatening the Temple of Karnak at Luxor. A commission, consisting of Mr. Langley, inspector general of irrigation in Upper Egypt, and Mr. Pastour, acting chief of the towns and buildings department, was hurriedly appointed, and sent off to Luxon. They arrived there and proceeded to inspect the ruins, and to decide on the steps to be taken for their preservation.

The ruins of Karnak are, without a doubt, the most wonderful in Egypt, and it would be a terrible blow to the Egyptological world if they were to be seriously damaged. The encroachment of the Nile every flood, and the rise of the sub-soil water, have always been a great source of danger to the ruins, which, from their antiquity and their fine preservation, have been fitly termed the monuments of ancient Egypt.

All the columns in the Great Hall fell in 1899, owing to their foundations having been worn away. The magnificent way in which their sound re-erection has been carried out inspires every hope that the commission just appointed will be able to take measures which will be equally successful, and which will secure the ruins from future encroachments of the rising flood.

VETERAN ACTOR MARRIES AT 70

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—Joseph Murphy, the veteran actor, famed for his work in "Kerry Gow" and other Irish plays and reputed to be worth $3,000,000, was married last Thursday in San Antonio to Miss May Frymier, an actress, whose home is in this city. Murphy is 70 years old and his bride is 25.

Miss Frymier is known on the stage as May Firmier. She is the daughter of John E. Frymier, formerly in the coffee business here. She was on a tour with Grace George in "A Woman's Way." This is her second season with Grace George. Before that she was leading woman in a company headed by James J. Corbett.

Joseph Murphy was born in Brooklyn in 1839. His best known plays are "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue." Miss Frymier played in these shows for four years.

Murphy started in life as a waiter in a restaurant in Sacramento, California. The restaurant burned and Murphy went to work as a fisherman. At night he spent his time practicing with beef bones with the intention of making himself proficient in the minstrel's art. He went into minstrelsy and proved successful. Then he went into the "legitimate."

FAST MAIL SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. — The Pennsylvania railroad on Monday will inaugurate a fast mail service from New York to St. Louis, and the Missouri Pacific on Tuesday will put on a fast train from St. Louis to Kansas City.

By the new schedule mail will be transported from New York to Los Angeles in three days, sixteen hours and fifteen minutes.

CLARK TO SHUT OUT DEMOCRATIC REBELS

Members of Minority Who Supported Cannon Will Not Be Admitted to the Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—By way of contribution to the general gayety of the event, the House Democratic organization is planning to read out of the party twenty-three members of the minority who made it possible for the Cannon forces to re-enact the despotic rules. Minority Leader Champ Clark's friends are taking steps already to shut the ignoble twenty-three out of the House caucus, which it is proposed to hold at the opening of Congress to outline the policy of legislative action, with special reference to the campaigns next year and thereafter.

It became known today that the movement indicated has taken serious shape. Incoming Democratic members of the House are discussing it more or less openly, and it is intimated that letters bearing on the subject have been exchanged between the leaders during the fall weeks. A deep purpose is understood to be involved, and the emphatic declarations of Champ Clark in the West that the next House will have 100 Democratic majority may reflect the hopes that have been builded partially on the plans of action under consideration.

Political ostracism is not a new effort, but it most frequently fails lamentably in practice. The Democrats, however, have as fine a chance, according to what a few of the Champ Clark lieutenants have let drop within a day or two, as ever was presented to accomplish something in that line that will attract the attention of the country. If the plan of shutting the twenty-three Cannon Democrats out of the House caucus goes through, the twenty-three in question will have to seek consolation where they gave it when they went to the speaker's rescue last March, or else get along without any political status so far as the House organization is concerned.

ACCUSED OF GETTING DENTISTS' GOLD

STOCKTON, Nov. 14.—Accused of making a specialty of robbing dentists' offices in many cities in the West of gold fillings, crown and bridge material, George Sanderson was arrested today by Officer Thomas Green. A few hours later John Raymond, who is believed to be an accomplice of Sanderson, was taken into custody. Supplies from dentists' parlors in Sacramento were found on the two men, and the police say that it is possible that Raymond will be connected with a local robbery and held here for trial.

For weeks reports of the burglary of dentists' offices have been received here and a watch was kept for the thieves. This morning Dr. Kertchem called up the police office and stated that his place had been robbed. He was invited to come to headquarters at once to identify his property, which had been brought in by Officer Green, who found dentists' gold in the possession of Sanderson. Sanderson was taken to Sacramento this evening by Detective Kripp, who says he has four strong cases against the man. Raymond is held here on a burglary charge.

SENATORS SPEND THE DAY AT YUMA

YUMA, Ariz., Nov. 14.—The senatorial irrigation committee, consisting of Senators Carter of Montana, Jones of Washington and Warren of Wyoming, spent Sunday in Yuma, arriving from the Imperial valley in a special car this morning.

The visitors were met here by Governor Sloan of Arizona, accompanied by his secretary. Congressional delegate Ralph Cameron, of Arizona, who had expected to be one of the party, was detained through illness in his family in Washington.

The visitors made an inspection of the government work at Laguna dam. The afternoon was devoted to an automobile tour of the Yuma valley. The day finished with a public reception at which the members of the committee addressed the citizens on the subject of irrigation. The members accompanied by Governor Sloan, left on the 9:35 train for Phoenix, where they will arrive tomorrow.

NOT GUILTY OF MURDER.

GRAND JUNCTION, Col., November 14.—The jury in the case of Joseph Pace, charged with the murder of Joseph Harris of Westwater, Utah, a few weeks ago, brought in a verdict of not guilty this morning. Pace shot and killed Harris in a dispute over cattle, and entered a plea of self-defense. The trial was held at Moab, Utah.

CARLISLE RESTING EASILY.

NEW YORK, November 14.—John G. Carlisle, who was secretary of the treasury under Pesident Cleveland, was reported today to be resting more comfortably at St. Vincent's Hospital, where he lies seriously ill with acute testinal troubles.

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Directors, held on the 28th day of October, 1909, an assessment (No. 1) of 15c per share was levied upon the capital stock of the corporation payable on the 20th day of November, 1909, in United States gold coin, to Geo. H. Smith, secretary of the said company in the City of Fresno, Cal., at Tulare and I streets. Any stock upon which the assessment shall remain unpaid on the 20th day of Dec. 1909, will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and unless payment is made before, will be sold on the 10th day of January, 1910, at 3 o'clock p. m. to pay the delinquent assessment together with the costs of advertising and expenses of sale.

GEO. H. SMITH, Secretary.
Tulare and I streets. P. O. Box 595, Fresno, Cal.

ANNUAL STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

Of the Crescent Canal Co. was postponed until Tuesday, the 23rd day of November, 1909.

H. J. GOODRICH, Secretary.

ORDINANCE NO. 129.

Before the Board of Supervisors of the County of Fresno, State of California.

In the matter of the application of the Fresno Traction Company, for a franchise to construct and maintain a street railroad.

Ordinance granting franchise to construct, equip, operate and maintain a street and interurban railroad along, over, across and upon certain streets, avenues and highways of the County of Fresno, State of California, describing the terms, conditions and obligations thereof.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Fresno, State of California, in open session, does hereby enact and ordain as follows, to-wit:

Whereas, all acts, matters and things precedent to the granting of the franchise and grant hereinafter set forth have heretofore happened, been done and performed in due form of law.

Now, therefore the Board of Supervisors of the said County of Fresno, State of California, does hereby ordain as follows, to-wit:

That a franchise for the term and period of fifty years be, and the same is, hereby granted to the Fresno Traction Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the state of California, and having its principal place of business at Fresno, California, and to its successors and assigns, to construct, equip, operate and maintain a street and interurban railroad, together with all and singular single and double tracks, switches, side-tracks, spur-tracks, turnouts, poles, trolley wires, cross wires, feed wires, appliances and appurtenances necessary thereto, and convenient and desirable therefor, along, over, across and upon those certain streets, avenues and highways, and portions of certain highways of the said county of Fresno, as follows, to-wit:

Beginning on First Street at or near the northerly line of Tulare Avenue and connecting with the tracks and street railroad now thereon and running thence in a southerly direction along the central portion of said First Street to the southerly line of Kern Avenue, all as per maps or plats showing said streets and avenues now on file and of record in the office of the county recorder of said county.

The terms, conditions, restrictions and limitations under which said franchise, and all the rights, privileges, permits and immunities thereby conferred or granted are as follows, to-wit:

1. The street and interurban railroad constructed and operated under said franchise shall be used for the transportation of passengers, express matter, the mails of the United States and freight.

2. In all cases where said franchise is granted over, along, across or upon any street or streets, avenues or highways, or portions of such, that are now, or may hereafter be, occupied by other line or lines of street railways or railroads, the said grantee herein named, its successors and assigns, shall have the right, and the same is hereby granted, to operate and run its cars over any and all tracks of such other line or lines; subject, however to the provisions and limitations of the Statutes of the State of California, applicable thereto.

3. The tracks to be laid under this franchise shall be laid along the center of the streets and highways traversed thereby, or as near thereto as existing conditions will allow. All cars used or run over said railway shall be propelled by electricity or other approved motive power, except horses, mules, steam locomotives or steam dummies; and the right is hereby given and granted to said grantee, its successors and assigns, to substitute one such motive power for another, as aforesaid, whenever the interests and business of said grantee, its successors or assigns, or the general welfare or convenience may seem to demand the same, subject to reasonable regulations by the said Board of Supervisors.

4. The said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall use in the construction of said railway good standard material, including rails weighing not less than forty-five pounds per yard thereof.

5. Said grantee, or its successors and assigns, shall at its own expense, pave or repave, macadamize or remacadamize, grade or regrade the said railway between the rails thereof, and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks where sidings or two tracks are laid, with the same material as may be used for such purposes by said county, and under the same supervision and specifications, and in the same manner as upon the streets or highways, or portions thereof, over which said railway runs, or the track or tracks thereof are laid, and shall keep the same constantly so paved and macadamized and in repair, flushed with the street, and provided with suitable crossings. It shall be the duty of said grantee, its successors and assigns, whenever steps are taken by the said Board of Supervisors, or property owners acting under authority so to do, to do or cause to be done any of the street work, road work or improvements herein enumerated, to cause said work to be done upon the portion of said streets and highways which said grantee, its successors or assigns, are required by law or ordinance to repair and keep in repair, at the same time and in the same manner and under the same supervision as above provided.

6. The road bed of said railway shall conform at all times to the established grade of the street, streets or highways on or over which the same is laid.

7. Cars sufficient for the transportation of all passengers desiring passage shall be run over every part of the railway constructed under this franchise each way, on every day, unless prevented by the elements, riots, strikes or unavoidable causes, at intervals of not more than one hour, between the hours of six a. m. and ten p. m.

8. Said grantee or its successors or assigns, shall construct all necessary flumes and culverts for the free passage of surface water under the tracks of said railway wherever and whenever necessary and all such culverts and flumes, and all curves, aqueducts, turnouts and switches shall be constructed in a first-class manner and suitable for the purpose. Said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall also have the right to excavate and remove such portions of the streets and highways occupied, or to be occupied by tracks and poles, as may be necessary properly to construct said railway and to erect needful apparatus and appliances so as to fully equip and operate the same: provided, however, that if said grantee, or its successors or assigns, shall in constructing or operating said railway, or any portion thereof, or any of the appurtenances thereto belonging, cut or injure any sewer, underground aqueduct or pipe line on or under said street, the same shall be repaired and left in as good condition as formerly, all at the expense of the grantee, its successors or assigns.

9. The said county of Fresno, in granting this franchise, expressly reserves the right to pave or repave, macadamize or remacadamize, grade or regrade, sewer or resewer, or otherwise improve at any time any of the streets or highways occupied by said railway, the grantee, its successors and assigns, to perform all work required of it or them to be kept in repair, at the same time and in the manner aforesaid, said work to be done at such times and in such a manner as to interrupt, interfere with or injure said railway and the operation thereof as little as possible.

10. All the poles erected or used by the said grantee, its successors or assigns, either for the purpose of supporting or carrying trolley wires, cross wires or feed wires shall be set at the sides of the streets and highways occupied so as to cause as little inconvenience to the public and property owners as possible, and no wires used in connection with said railway shall be strung or carried less than sixteen feet above ground; provided, however, that said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall have the right and right of way, and the same are hereby granted, along and upon such of the public highways, or portions thereof of said county as may be necessary therefor to erect poles and string and carry thereon all wires needful for the proper operation of said railway.

11. The rate of fare for any distance one way over said railway shall not exceed five cents for one passenger; provided, however, that no fare shall be demanded or collected of or from any passenger carried over any part of said railway until a seat shall have been provided for him or her in the car in which he or she is traveling, unless the failure to so provide a seat or seats is due to an excessive, extraordinary or unforeseen amount of travel at the time. The grantee, its successors and assigns, shall and must at all times, upon and after the completion of said railway, and during the operation thereof and without extra charge issue and receive from passengers going in one direction, transfers good for one continuous passage over and upon any and every other line and lines of any other railway or railways within said county, which said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall construct under this franchise, or hereafter own, control, operate or be interested in, not more than two miles in length. No fare shall be charged for children under three years of age.

12. Passenger cars of said railway shall have distinguishing numbers with no duplicates, and be equipped as efficiently and conveniently as the cars in use by other street railways of similar character and provided with efficient safety fenders.

13. The tracks of said railway must not be wider than the standard railway gauge, nor less than three feet between the rails.

14. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to be a waiver by said county, or the Board of Supervisors, of the right to impose upon said franchise, and the property owned, held or operated by said grantee, its successors or assigns thereunder, any license tax that may be allowed by law, or fixed and determined by said Board.

15. Said grantee or its successors and assigns, shall semi-annually, during the life of said franchise, pay to said county of Fresno, in lawful money of the United States, two per cent. of the gross receipts of said grantee, its successors and assigns arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise. No such or any percentage shall be paid during the first five years next succeeding the date of this franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable and paid semi-annually. It shall be the duty of said grantee, its successors and assigns, to file with the clerk of said Board of Supervisors, upon the expiration of five and one-half years from the date of the granting of said franchise, and at the expiration of each and every half year thereafter, a statement verified by the oath of an officer of said grantee, its successors or assigns, showing that total gross receipts or gross earnings as aforesaid, collected or received by said grantee, its successors or assigns, during the preceding six months, from all passengers, and for all express matter, the United States mails and freight carried or transported in any direction over any part of said railway for the construction and operation of which said franchise is granted and within thirty days after the filing of such statement, it shall be and is hereby made the duty of said grantee, its successors or assigns, to pay to said county, as aforesaid, the aggregate sums of the said percentage upon any of the said gross semi-annual receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise and railway, determined and computed as aforesaid, and the said Board of Supervisors, for the purpose of confirming and verifying such statements shall have full and free access by any committee of its members appointed therefor, or representatives to the books, accounts and vouchers of said grantee, its successors or assigns.

16. In case the franchise granted shall be an extension of an existing system of street railroads, such as this is, then the gross receipts shall be estimated to be one-half of the proportion of the total gross receipts of said system which the mileage of such extension bears to the total mileage of the whole system, and said estimate shall be conclusive as to the amount of the gross receipts of said extension.

17. The work of constructing said railway shall be commenced in good faith within not more than four months from and after the date of the granting of said franchise, and shall thereafter be prosecuted in good faith, and without unnecessary or unavoidable delay, and be completed within not more than three years thereafter. If the grantee, its successors, or assigns, shall in good faith fail to lay tracks and to equip a street railway with necessary poles, wires and appliances to operate the same, as herein provided over, along and upon all the streets for which the privilege and franchise so to do is hereby granted, and is not in good faith operating a street railway thereon, as herein provided, then as to such portion or portions of streets or highways, the grantee, its successors and assigns, shall forthwith forfeit all rights, franchises and privileges granted hereunder as to such streets or portions of such streets or highways not so used.

18. The term "streets" wherever and whenever used herein shall include any and all avenues, highways or county roads referred to.

This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and including the 30th day of November, 1909, and the clerk of the Board of Supervisors is hereby authorized and directed to cause this ordinance to be published for at least one week prior to the above date in The Fresno Morning Republican, a newspaper printed and published daily in the city of Fresno, said county and state.

This is to certify that the foregoing ordinance and franchise was, at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the county of Fresno, State of California, held on the 11th day of November, 1909, after having been read by said board, duly adopted and ordered published in The Fresno Morning Republican, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county, by the following vote, to-wit:

Ayes: Supervisors Jorgensen, Huffman, Johnson, Mitchell, Martin.
Noes: None.
Attest:
(Seal) W. O. MILES,
County Clerk and ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the said County of Fresno, State of California.

ALEXANDER LAND CO., 1050 J St.

I WILL SELL, if sold immediately, as property is without a tenant, 265 acres in Placer county for a figure that will be interesting to the purchaser. There is 40 acres of this property in vineyard, 3 acres in figs and 50 acres cleared land, balance in timber. There is a good sized house and barn with other buildings and sheds. Property is adjoining railroad and townsite, affording A1 shipping facilities. Land is particularly adapted to fine table fruits and berries. This property affords a man with small means who can make his residence upon it an opportunity of making big money.

COME IN and talk it over with me.

I HAVE 80 ACRES well located near Fresno, all in alfalfa, good stand, which the owner has authorized me to sell at a price and on terms that should attract anyone interested in alfalfa.

I STILL HAVE that 40 acres of vineyard near Fowler that I have been offering at a bargain figure, despite the fact that several prominent men have been trying to raise enough for the first payment. Here is a chance for the man with some ready money.

REV. THOMAS BOYD TALKS ON VETO BY MAYOR OF SALOON ORDINANCE

States That Will of People Twice Expressed Has Been Violated; Does Not Think When City Derives Only $30,000 from Saloons and Contributes Annually Half a Million Dollars That It Is Good Finance.

In accordance with his published announcement, Rev. Thomas Boyd of the First Presbyterian church took issue last evening during the course of his sermon with Mayor Rowell in regard to the vetoing of the anti-saloon ordinance. The discourse was announced as a prelude to the second of the series of sermons on "The Young Man and His Equipment," but was reserved until the last, ostensibly that Rev. Boyd might have an opportunity in connection with his regular sermon to mention the evils of the saloon as an institution.

The announcement that the minister would speak on "Mayor Rowell and His Veto—The Other side" had the effect of drawing to the church many citizens curious to hear what might be said. These sat in silence and at the conclusion of the remarks filed out without comment. Rev. Boyd said:

In what I am about to say I want it distinctly understood that I shall not discuss Dr. Rowell. Dr. Rowell and I are friends. But for a little while I am to discuss Mayor Rowell and his veto. I feel that I owe it to this congregation to say what I am to say, and that for several reasons.

First—Because I was among the very first to go to him to ask him to become a candidate for mayor, and I did everything I could to help secure his election, believing as I did that it would be for the best interests of our city, of our community and of the cause that was at issue in the campaign. And then after his election had been secured I stood upon this platform to felicitate this people of Fresno upon the splendid victory we had won, and what we could now hope from the new administration. I, however, reserved a place, wisely it has proved, for criticism, little dreaming that the hour would come so soon when it would be necessary. I here said in that sermon, "In the exercise of this high prerogative, the ballot, and with the responsibility incident to it, the majority of the citizens of this city have made choice of the executive and legislative officials for the next four years. They have also made record of their convictions concerning the open saloon, that it is inimical to the best and highest welfare of the city, and that every provision which has hitherto existed for its maintenance must be blotted from the statute book. Sentence has been pronounced upon the saloon as an institution, and the day of execution of the sentence has been fixed.

"The question of saloon or no saloon was the issue, and it was fairly submitted, and the people have declared their verdict by the sovereign power known in the republic as the ballot. Majority rule is a cardinal principle in American politics. To attempt to thwart the will of the people when so expressed is treason—is anarchy." Thus I spoke from this platform on Sunday, April 25th. I said still further, "The new administration! The mayor! His name stands for the best things in man. Dr. Rowell as a citizen is one of the foremost. A man of the highest integrity and honor,—in whom the people have implicit confidence."

Now, I had two interviews with Mayor Rowell—I shall call him such, although these took place before the election—and of the first I have already spoken. In the course of the second we went carefully over the whole situation. We discussed the proposed ordinance, and he then spoke of his dissatisfaction of some of its provisions. But this he said, with great emphasis, "You may make sure of one thing, that the law will be enforced." And we also went over the ground of a probable deficit in the city treasury, should the ordinance be passed, and he said to me, "I see where we can get at least $5000, and I think we shall be easily able to take care of the balance of the deficit, should there be one."

Now, the mayor says, "The ordinance was not satisfactory to me." It was not satisfactory to any of us. But it was the best we could get. It asked for the closing of the open saloon, and that was the issue. And he was willing to become candidate for mayor, with that ordinance, as it was submitted to the people, for his platform. Now I submit that to all intents and purposes that that ordinance, as voted upon by the people, and as modified and passed by the trustees, did become the law, so far as the will of a people can make any law. The ordinance as it was voted upon by the people became the law, for it did not need the signature of the mayor to make it effective. And, morally, if not technically, it became the law when it was passed by a majority of the board of trustees. If majority rule stands for anything in this republic, that ordinance is a part of the organic law of this municipality. I know full well of the technicalities involved. But it was once held by the highest court that ever was convened on this continent that you could not go behind the returns of an election. Now, in my judgment, Mayor Rowell was morally bound to carry out the will of the people as twice expressed, first at the ballot box, and then by their representatives—the board of trustees. What the people asked for was to have the open saloon closed, and Mayor Rowel has said to them, "You can't have what you asked for. I know better than you what you should have." In other words, the mayor sets his judgment up against the twice expressed will of the people.

Furthermore, the situation in April last was not essentially different from what it was on last Thursday morning, when the mayor signed the veto. The whole financial situation and all that could be involved in a passage of this ordinance was before him then just as fully as it was on Thursday morning. The ordinance was the issue then, he knew the financial problem then, and yet he accepted the nomination. Here is my sorest and keenest disappointment in Mayor Rowell—he accepted the nomination when he had the issue and all the facts before him, just as certainly as they have ever been at any hour since. I feel that a tragedy was committed in this community when he signed that veto. The will of the people has been defeated. And in my judgment the moral effect upon this community will be irreparable. What hope can we have of reform in other directions when we have been so ruthlessly defeated in this? Mayor Rowell, in a private interview, speaks of the vote of the people last April as "mere sentiment." Well, the same vote that passed the ordinance elected him mayor, and he would hardly like to be classed among sentimentalists. If that ordinance did not pass, then Mayor Rowell is not morally the mayor of Fresno. He is there by a technicality which was not taken advantage of.

Again I feel that a great cause, for the success of which we have been battling for years, has had a backset from which it will not be able to recover for yet years to come.

Again, and lastly, Mayor Rowell by his act and by his expressed word, says that the city government of Fresno is dependent upon the saloon for its maintenance. Woe worth the day when our city is dependent upon such a source for its support. Better sit in nakedness than be clothed in a robe wrought in such a loom. Have we become such parasites that we must be fed upon this carrion? Better then that we live as nomads. We get $30,000 from the saloons, with which to run our city government, and the people of Fresno give them a half million of dollars for the privilege. And yet the mayor thinks this good finance.

Mayor Rowell is reported as having said—I quote from memory, from the Tribune of Friday last—that "the saloon keepers have rights, notwithstanding what the preachers say." The saloon keeper has no rights, except as they are granted by the people. The people have a right to give and the people have a right to take away. The people said the accursed thing must be put away, and the mayor by a stroke of his pen fastens the curse anew upon us—and this in a government of majority rule.

TALK OF REVIVING OLD ASSOCIATION

A Live Body Is Needed to Advertise Valley.

Campaign of Railroads May Arouse Organization to Activity.

Talk of reviving the San Joaquin Valley Commercial Association is again being indulged in. The organization has for many months been sleeping soundly—so soundly in fact that many of the boomers for this section of the state are considering seriously the advisability of holding a post mortem and then preparing for the funeral.

Internal disorder is given as the cause of the association's inactivity. The time for the annual election of officers has been allowed to slip by without anyone suggesting that the formality should be carried out and Return Roberts of Madera is still supposed to be the organization's president. But of late nothing has been heard from him and the various Chambers of Commerce of the valley as a consequence have been forced to paddle their own canoes. In short, it has been almost generally forgotten that such a body as the San Joaquin Valley Commercial Association ever existed.

But now with the announcement of the railroads that they are about to inaugurate a campaign of advertising for the purpose of coonizing the San Joaquin valley, the need of a general organization has become apparent, and it is not improbable that steps in the near future will be taken to bring the old association back to life and place it on a footing that will result in some benefit being derived from its work.

President A. L. Hobbs of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce is known to favor the revival of the association, providing that it will become a live working factor in helping to advertise the valley. It is also known that officials of other promotion organizations of the various counties hold the same ideas, and in fact would take the initiative in its revival if given assurance that it would become an organization thoroughly unselfish in its motives and that it would work for the general good and not for the interests of any one county or community.

Since the railroads through their local representatives have announced their intended campaign, the fact that a central body is not in active existence has been generally deplored, and this may lead to the organization again coming into existence.

MINERAL OUTPUT OF CALIFORNIA REPORTED BY GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

Gold and Silver Production Is Recorded to Be the Largest for Ten Years Back—Gains in Guantity of Gold Extracted Were Made in 21 Counties of the State.

The United States Geological Survey reports that in 1908 California produced $18,761,559 in gold; 1,647,278 ounces of silver, valued at $873,057; and 704 ounces of refined platinum, valued at $13,414. This platinum was produced at placer mines in Butte, Humboldt, Siskiyou, Trinity, Calaveras, Sacramento and Del Norte counties, three-fourths of it having been mined in Butte.

The values of California's output of gold, silver, and platinum in 1907 were $16,727,928, $751,646, and $8,900, respectively. The quantity of silver mined in the state in 1907 was 1,138,858 ounces; the quantity of platinum mined was 300 ounces. The record of the state's production of these metals in 1908 therefore shows considerable gains over the production of 1907. The value of the gold produced in the state in 1905 was slightly in excess of the value for 1908, but with that exception the figures for gold and silver production in 1908 are the largest attained within the last decade.

The production of gold and silver by counties in 1908 is shown in the following table:

County—	Gold (value).	SILVER. Fine ounces.	Value.
Amador	$1,876,174	24,980	$ 13,230
Butte	3,139,398	23,978	12,708
Calaveras	1,378,511	118,353	62,727
Colusa	578	11	6
Del Norte	3,488	36	19

Tuolumne	709,762	22,186	11,732
Yuba	2,034,486	18,862	9,997
	$18,761,559	1,647,278	$873,057

Gains over 1907 in the production of gold were made by 21 counties, chiefly Butte, Calaveras, Merced and Stanislaus, Inyo, Mariposa, Nevada, Sacramento, Shasta, Siskiyou, and Yuba, and gains in the production of gold and silver by 17 counties, among which were Butte, Calaveras, Eldorado, Nevada, Plumas, San Bernardino, Shasta, Siskiyou, Trinity, and Yuba.

The statistics presented were collected by the United State Geological Survey and will be incorporated in an advance chapter of "Mineral Resources of the United States, Calendar year 1909," soon to be issued by the survey.

VICTIM ARRESTED IN MAYHEM CASE

Man Who Lost Ear Accused By a Bystander.

Accusation Is That After Injury Assault Was Made With Icetongs.

In the arrest yesterday by Constable McSwain at Parlire of Thomas Buckley, who had an ear bitten off recently by Chris Tremper in a fight in a Parlier saloon, friends of Tremper, it is said, have taken a step calculated to help clear him of the charge of mayhem.

The complaint against Buckley was sworn out on Saturday afternoon by George Travers in Justice Smith's court, Travers alleging that he was assaulted by Buckley with a pair of ice tongs in the fight which took place when Buckley had the ear torn off.

When making the complaint, Travers declared that Buckley was a dangerous man and cautioned McSwain to exercise caution in arresting him. Buckley was arrested with no trouble.

That there is a discrepancy somewhere was made evident on Saturday when Traver, the complainant, stated that he was struck by Buckley after the latter had had the ear torn off. Parlier people explain Buckley's action at this time by stating that it is only natural that he should act thus when he had received such an injury.

At the time of the arrest of Tremper, Buckley was forced to give bonds for his appearance, while Tremper was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

One of the startling allegations in the case is by Buckley that he can produce six or seven witnesses to verify his statement that when his ear was bitten out, Traver, the complainant against him, seized the portion which had been torn off and exhibited it at the bars of the saloon. He adds that later, when an officer made a demand for the ear, Traver refused to give it up.

HEARST GAVE $9000 TO CAMPAIGN FUND

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—William Randolph Hearst, who ran third in the recent mayoralty contest in New York city, filed his statement of election expenses with the secretary of state at Albany yesterday.

Hearst says he received "no money or its equivalent" in aid of his election. He says that he contributed $9000 to John W. Cox, treasurer of the Civic Alliance, the political party which nominated Hearst. This sum was applied to the payment of rent of the Civic Alliance headquarters and printing and other campaign expenses.

Hearst adds that in addition to this amount he has "also agreed to pay any other debts properly incurred by said John W. Cox as such treasurer for campaign expenses, not to exceed in the aggregate $5000."

Why Eyes Fail

Get away from Nature and you suffer; as an example, take the eyes. Beyond question, the best eyes are those that are most constantly bathed in sunlight in outdoor air. Defectities and diseases begin with the eyes in about the same proportion as men confine themselves and their children to the house and to the use of artificial light. As we advance in civilization and deteriorate in physical soundness, eyesight suffers first because of need for Nature's sovereign blessing, Light. Natural light as it comes from the sun is best suited to good and easy eyesight, but in the present day of artificial eye aid, it is found that the ordinary lenses, now in use, even those of the very best quality, absorb the cream of health giving element, robbing the eye of that particular part of light which is the most strengthening and nutritious. The new Health-Ray Lens will transmit these valuable portions of light known as the health rays. This discovery is a decided step back toward the embrace of Mother Nature, and will prove a blessing to thousands who are dependent upon artificial aid for good vision. We offer our patrons the privilege of wearing Health Ray lenses.

NOON PRAYERS ALL THIS WEEK

Outlook Is for a Good Attendance.

Prayer Asked for Y. M. C. A. Foreign Fellowship Workers.

The best meeting of the season was held at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, both from the point of interest and attendance. Dr. Woods gave a practical address on the subject of prayer. Following the main service a special prayer meeting was held in the office of the secretary and the plans for the daily noon prayer meetings were discussed. These meetings will be held from 12:20 to 12:50 daily this week.

The committee wishes it emphasized that these meetings will be informal and that men may come in at any time and leave when they please. It is hoped that the light lunch to be served at 12 o'clock will make it possible for many to stay for the entire service. An expression was taken at the meeting yesterday which indicates that these meetings will be well attended.

The meeting this noon will be led by Miles O. Humphreys; tomorrow afternoon by Dr. R. T. Hall; Wednesday, A. L. Munger; Thursday, A. G. Wahlberg; Friday, J. Q. Anderson, and Saturday, John Fechter, Jr. So interested are some of the members that there is talk of continuing them indefinitely if they should prove successful this week. This is done by some of the associations in the larger cities. The topic for prayer today is "The Work of the International Committee on the Foreign Field. The Young Men of Africa."

Through the gifts of the associations of Canada and the United States and their friends, eighty-two secretaries, at the beginning of the year 1909, were at work under the direction of the foreign department of the International Committee at thirty centers in thirteen countries: Argentina, Brazil, Ceylon, China, Cuba, Hong-kong, India, Japan, Korea Turkey Mexico Philippines and Uruguay.

Responsibility and initiative are rapidly being accepted by the Christian leaders of the countries served. National committees direct the supervision and extension of the association work in Brazil, Japan, Korea, China, India and Ceylon. Increasingly native secretaries co-operate with the foreign secretaries in giving supervision to the 350 associations on the foreign field.

Each secretary sent out has been located with precision at the great seats of commerce, government and education, from which centers of influence, self-supporting and self-directing associations are best calculated to propagate themselves and the undertaking thus be completely nationalized.

Ten modern buildings are in operation in non-Christian countries and five others are under construction. They represent jointly the gifts of friends at home and the contributions of merchants, officials and missionaries on the field.

In spiritual fruitfulness the foreign associations are abounding more and more. During the past year, there have been accessions to Christianity and the church aggregating many hundreds. Bible study groups have multiplied and scores have given themselves to the work of the Christian ministry, notably from the student associations of India and China.

Intercession is particularly sought to the end that these spiritual results may be multiplied; that the number of foreign secretaries may be increased to meet the urgent calls; and that the home associations and friends may be led to offer the large amount needed during 1909 and to provide for the increase of the staff to at least 100 men during the year 1910.

Association fellowship and co-operation between North America and South Africa was again happily emphasized last year by the visit and work of an international secretary, Fred B. Smith. One result of his visit has been the call this year to another member of the international force, John S. Tichenor, to become traveling secretary of the South African Association. Mr. Tichenor accepted the call and has begun his labors with encouraging results.

Prayer is asked (1) for the young men of South Africa, for association work in the cities and towns, for the National Council and its secretary, (2) that the way may soon be opened for association work on behalf of the native young men in all parts of the Dark Continent.

REBEKAH LODGE WEEKLY MEETING

Fresno Rebekah Lodge No. 138, I. O. O. F., at its meeting on Saturday evening, elected to membership three applicants who will be initiated next Saturday evening. It was resolved to give a masque dance on the fourth Saturday in this month and a committee consisting of Mrs. Ben Drenth, Miss Bracken, Mrs. Alvienberg, Ben Drenth, Thomas O'Brien and Dr. Bellis will have charge of the affair. After lodge closed the monthly home social was held and a large gathering enjoyed a good program. Mrs. A. C. Mudge was chairman. Refreshments consisting of home-made candy, popcorn, nuts and apples were served. Dancing concluded the evening's entertainment. Next Saturday will be initiation night.

VISALIA MEETING WAS INSTRUCTIVE

M. F. Tarpey of This City Was Prevented from Attending the Session.

The meeting of the counties committee of the California committee, held at Visalia last Saturday, while one of the poorest attended in the history of the organization, was nevertheless, according to the returned Fresnoites who attended, one of the most interesting. A regretable fact was that M. F. Tarpey of this city, who was to have read a paper on agriculture, telegraphed that he was detained at home by busines and would be unable to be present.

The addresses made were instructive of the best methods of raising and marketing the products of the farm, and all suggestions were of a more practical nature than are generally given when men of prominence gather to discuss the topic.

The small attendance is attributed to the fact that the meeting had not been properly advertised and as a consequence public interest was not aroused as it should have been.

Those who attended from this city were Secretary Robertson of the Chamber of Commerce, H. H. Alexander and Hayden W. Jones.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS' OBSERVATION CLUB

It Is Complimented Editorially as One of the State's Unique Organizations.

The November number of the Western Journal of Education has this editorial mention of a local enterprise: "Fresno's organization of high school boys of the freshman class known as the "Observation Club" is perhaps one of the most unique of its sort in California. The club is formed and conducted along the same lines as a municipal government, having its own officers with duties to perform similar to those of the officials elected by the city to serve in their various capacities. The organization not only has a mayor of its own, but has a set of eight trustees, a clerk, a treasurer, a board of police and fire commissioners, a board of education and a street superintendent with two assistants. The last three named officials constitute the observation committee. It is the duty of this committee to find locations about town that may be overgrown with unsightly weeds or other obstructions objectionable to the eye and report the same to the mayor and this to the general body, who then take steps to have one of the working squads with shovels and other implements clean the neglected premises."

STATHAM FUNERAL SIMPLY CONDUCTED

Many Pay Last Respects to Well Known Fresnan Despite Threatening Weather.

Despite the cold, threatening weather which prevailed yesterday afternoon, a large attendance of friends paid their last respects to James M. Statham, who met such a tragic death near Selma last Friday afternoon. The funeral services were held from the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Rev. Duncan Wallace officiating.

The services were simple, consisting of prayer, scripture reading, remarks by Rev. Wallace and one or two selections by the Cumberland choir. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent to cover the coffin and the grave, including many handsome floral pieces.

The pall-bearers who acted were: Chris Cooble, E. B. Waterman, Mr. Porter, Walter McSwain, John Kaufman, Henry Darling and R. H. Harding. Interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

CHERBOURG, Nov. 14.—King Manuel of Portugal arrived today from Bordeaux and was greeted by a representative of Fallieres. The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert was in waiting and the king boarded her. He will sail tomorrow for England, where he is to visit King Edward.

BOGUS CHECK MEN TO PLEAD GUILTY

Woods Confesses His Part in the Crooked Work

Participation of Third Person Is Denied; Leniency for Woods.

As the result of a searching examination of Thomas Woods and Miles Burlew, alias A. T. Davis, conducted at the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Chittenden, Chief of Police Shaw and Detective Farnam, it was learned that Woods and Burlew are the only men implicated in the extensive bogus check operations carried on by them from San Diego to Fresno.

At first it was thought that three men were in the game, and when Burlew was arrested he declared that there was such a third man. During the examination yesterday, however, he denied that there was a third man in the case, and stated that he was the man named Rayburn who passed the check in San Diego. Woods also denied yesterday that there were three men implicated, stating that he and Burlew alone are implicated.

After the examination yesterday it was announced that Woods and Burlew would in all probability plead guilty. That Woods is not to blame for the predicament he is in and that he was led into it without his knowledge is admitted by Burlew. It is probable that a strong plea will be made for leniency in behalf of Woods, but upon Burlew the severity of the law will be visited. From letters which have been received from the East, it is evident that Woods has heretofore borne a good reputation and that his statement that he has been away from home only about three months is true. Burlew is doing all in his power to shield Woods, whom he declares is innocent.

Burlew stated yesterday that he operated alone from Washington to Phoenix, Arizona, and that it was there that he met Woods. He declared emphatically that at no time did Woods pass any checks, but that all the work was done by him. He states, though, that Woods was with him from the time they left San Diego until they arrived in Fresno.

Woods stated yesterday that while he believed Burlew was working a crooked game, he was not positive of it. Woods refused to implicate himself in any work done in any other town, but confined his confession to Fresno.

The fact that the officers are unable to connect Woods with any work in other cities has led to the conclusion that Woods will be dealt with leniently.

After the arrest of Burlew, and seeing that the principal had been caught, Woods confessed his part in the work and admitted that he was the person who was working with Burlew in this city.

During the examination yesterday the officers learned that the picture which Burlew sent in his threatening letter to the district attorney, was a picture of no one in particular, for Burlew finally admitted that there was no third party.

From investigations made since the arrest of Burlew it is evident that few of the merchants of the city who were buncoed, correctly described Burlew. In the descriptions given the police, his age ranged from 38 to 65 years. Burlew stated that he is 54 years of age. According to the merchants' description, Burlew ranged from 160 to 250 pounds in weight and from 5 feet 4 inches to 6 feet in height. When Burlew alighted from the train with Chief of Police Shaw, two merchants who were at the train to identify him, asserted that Shaw had returned with the wrong man, and the police are of the belief that but for Burlew's confession it would have been difficult to convict him.

Sheriff Chittenden stated yesterday that he expects word from the East in a few days, telling whether Burlew is an ex-convict or not. The sheriff believes he is an ex-convict and has been making investigations.

Henry Brickley, attorney for Woods, was at the examination yesterday. It was expected at first that the two men would be brought together, but later it was decided not to let them meet until today, and the examination of them yesterday was conducted individually.

FRUITLESS QUEST FOR SUBSCRIBER

Local Solicitor Meets With Disappointment.

Hunt for a Skiddoo Number on Lemon Avenue Ends in Failure.

"Call at 23 Lemon avenue for subscriber."

The foregoing matter-of-fact and curt notice left upon the desk of one of the solicitors of a local evening paper last Saturday had the effect of arousing the young man to action. To the average person who does not keep in touch with the newspaper business to any greater extent than to go out in the morning into the front yard and secure the paper in time for breakfast, the notice itself would have been of no significance. But to the overworked solicitor of an evening paper a voluntary offer to subscribe has about the same effect as the sight of a fleeting hare has upon blue-blooded greyhound.

So, grabbing hat, and with a look of determination upon his face this young man started in search of the prospective subscriber, after having equipped himself with a list of the avenues named after fruits in the city and which included not only Lemon but Orange, Fig, Olive, Cherry, Raisins and with Chestnut and Citrus thrown in for good measure.

After a long ride on one of the street cars and a subsequent walk of some blocks, the energetic young solicitor found himself on Lemon avenue. But here his trouble began. A call at every house on the avenue on both sides of the street failed to reveal No. 23. The oldest inhabitant on the thoroughfare was appealed to, but could give no information. To those who understand what it means for an evening paper to lose a subscriber, the disappointment of the solicitor needs no elaboration.

It was a very dejected young man who returned to his office to inform the business manager that "No. 23" was not to be found on Lemon avenue, and that the number had either been changed or else the house had been moved since the order was given.

An investigation, participated in by the editor of the paper, the business manager and others in authority led to the discovery of the following facts: First, that "23" means "skiddoo." Secondly, that there is not a resident on Lemon avenue who would allow his telephone or his house to be numbered "23." Third, that the solicitor undertook to find the prospective subscriber on the 13th of the month, and was therefore working under a hoodoo from the start. And fourth, that the order was probably left on the solicitor's desk on the day previous, which was Friday.

With all this combination of circumstances to work against, of course no solicitor of an afternoon paper can be expected to secure subscribers.

GOLD DUST will take the grime and smut, grease and dirt from your pots and pans in a twinkling, leaving them as clean as when new

GOLD DUST is so far ahead of soap for cleaning pots and pans, that the woman who does not use it is really doing about twice as much work as necessary. The soap merely cleans off the surface, and does not dig deep after the germs of decay which accumulate on pots, pans and kettles which are in constant use.

GOLD DUST does more than clean—it goes to the very heart of things, kills every germ and sterilizes your cooking utensils. It makes them sanitarily clean and safe.

GOLD DUST does the work in just half the time that it can be done with soap or any other cleansers.

GOLD DUST is a vegetable oil soap in powdered form which starts to work the moment it strikes the water; it cleans quickly, easily and thoroughly.
